Strange as it may seem, Santa Ana, surrounded by citrus groves, has no orange packing plant. It has two railroads and the Pacific Electric system, adequate transportation facilities, one would conclude, but not a packing house. Why? Don't ask me. I've often made the same inquiry. This time it came to me so I'm asking you. Maybe the chamber of commerce forgot about it during the flush days of the industry and packing house rivalry. It's a nice little industry for any community.

Those elevated collars are all right for street wear, but when you put one of them in front of a theater patron he's either got a kick coming, or a pain in the neck looking.

Some fellow over in Europe who has accurately predicted a number of earthquakes, schedules one in 1939 for the Pacific northwest. That's going a long way from home to start trouble, especially when we are not looking for that kind.

Like it or not the football season has stolen the show for the next few months. There may be a few pre-views and European war scares, but for spot-light attention the glimmer and glamor will be considerably reduced until the boys in padded uniforms get off the field.

Oranges lost 17 cents a box last week. That may be good news to the fellow who isn't in the orange business, but to the grower it's a kick in the pants. And what's more it won't pay tax on the baby a new pair of shoes.

Apropos: Who won that $5000 offered by a citrus czar for the perfection of the best anti-smudge orchard heater?

Bob Law has a keen vision. He saw my thumb in the air without it being there. Anyway, he was the good Samaritan of my invisible intention, and took me for a ride. If he didn't know where I was going to be "get out" at the right place.

Dr. Huston, of Costa Mesa, who originated the idea of illuminating the coast highway during the Christmas season, has asked to be relieved of that duty for the present. The Coast association said no but Doc says yes, and some one else will have to take care of the illumination. He has performed a fine service for the Orange county coast line. He is entitled to the rest he requests.

I don't know why it is that I have to be reminded every time the Orange County Peace Officers are going to hold a meeting. They know where I am most of the time. What have I been doing anyway? Maybe that's what they want to know.

Another attempt to locate liquid is to be made in the Garden Grove sector, more definitely the Stanton property. The Texas company is the hopeful aspirant, no doubt supplied with geological and geophysical facts which encourages the investment. When I look at an outpost well in my section, which is one mile distant, it gives me some encouragement, but I rather have the well.

Members of Al Malaika Temple who went to Reno to attend the ceremonial, paraded in snow. I've been with 'em when they would have paraded in any kind of weather. When you go out for a good time you don't stop for weather. Anyway, who are these Shriner who can order the particular kind of weather they want? They don't order it—they just take it.

And speaking of weather, Bill Hagthorn challenged the climate which is peculiar to the mountains. He took on more than he bargained for. The rains descended, the floods came, and as if that wasn't enough, someone sent a snowstorm along so that Bill won't get lonesome.

Nazi Spy Tells of U.S. Job

NEW YORK. (AP)—The government's star spy case witness—Guenther Gustav Rummich, army deserter who turned secret agent—told Judge John C. Knox and a federal jury today that Nazi Germany's interests shifted from American military secrets late in 1937 to industrial information.

He was so informed by two of the agents with whom he had contact, Rummich testified.

One of those, he said, he knew only as "Wiegand," the other was "Schmidt."

"Wiegand," he said, apparently was important for he showed him a photograph of himself allegedly taken at the German embassy in Washington purportedly in company with Ambassador Hans Dieckhoff and Capt. Fritz Wiedemann, adjutant to Chancellor Hitler.

"Wiegand," he said, first apprised him of Germany's shifting interest from military to industrial information, particularly that kind which had to do with American rearmament.

ORDER REGRETTED

"Schmidt" later asked him if he knew of the new orders, he said. "He said this change of orders was due to an agreement between someone in Washington and someone in Berlin," explained Rummich, who pleaded guilty at the start of the trial, leaving three co-defendants, Erich Glaser, Otto Voss and Johanna Hofmann to face trial alone.

"He did not say who these parties were, but said it was a shame the order had been put in effect. "Schmidt asked me if I knew anyone employed in either the Bethlehem steel plant or the Dupont plant. I said, 'No,' but I was my best to get in contact with someone."

$2000 FOR PLANS

"He said some of the letters in his possession were for someone in Brooklyn and that this party in Brooklyn was getting $2000 for certain plans he or she had provided."

Rummich said he was skeptical since he had been receiving only $40 or $50 himself.

"Schmidt" showed him the money in one letter.

"It was two $1000 bills," Rummich said.

"The party in Brooklyn," as Rummich referred to the operator there, had discovered some information about a kind of gyroscope, and "the plans" allegedly had been sent to the naval war ministry in Berlin.

The courtroom, packed with spectators and newspaper men and women, was silent as Rummich told his story.

ICKES POURS FIRST WATER IN NEW CANAL

IMPERIAL D.A.M., Colorado River. (AP)—A canal big enough for ocean steamers, cutting through the sand dunes of one of the most blistering of American deserts, was dedicated today by Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes.

"Water creates an empire," he said as he pressed a button opening the headgate valves and sending first water into the $40,000,000 all-American canal.

He spoke to the bronzed pioneers who lived through the conquest of the desert to see the creation of the famed $100,000,000 a year winter garden of America, Imperial valley.

"You have seen the treacherous Colorado river controlled by Boulder dam," Ickes said. "Today the dream of an all-American canal, with a never-failing water supply, is nearing completion. You have built our homes under conditions which would have defeated less persistent men and you have seen your valley grow to one of importance to the whole United States."

"Boulder dam has forever removed the danger from periodic, major river floods. The great desilting works here at Imperial dam will effectively remove the silt from the water before it is turned into the canal and thus eliminate the very heavy annual expense that you have sustained for removal of the silt from your system of ditches."

"The water we turn into the canal today will not reach your farms. It will merely mark the beginning of a period of seasoning the canal during which particles of silt carried in the waters will seal the bottom and sides against seepage and losses. This process will continue for another year, but the time is not far distant when you will see a great stream coursing through the All-American. It will flow across the desert to irrigate your fields, to water your stock and serve your cities."

Prisoner Dies of Football Injuries

PITTSBURGH. (AP)—Football claimed the life of a prisoner in Western penitentiary today.

Rex Warman, 21, a regular for two seasons on the prison's football team, was hurt Saturday while his team was losing to a sandlot aggregation, 6 to 0.

Lack of Marketing Pact in Florida Held Citrus Issue

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Citrus leaders, warned of a crisis this season, proposed marketing solutions today which ranged from selling campaigns to the elimination of low grade shipments.

The suggestions were offered informally as a conference on the citrus problem went into its second day. The meeting, restricted to official delegates from the three producing areas, was called by the agricultural department after it became apparent in 1938-39 production would be by far the largest on record.

H. A. Lynn, Riverside, Calif., and F. B. Holland, Mission, Tex., declared the absence of a marketing agreement in Florida handicapped the entire industry.

A growers committee discussed with Agricultural Adjustment Administration officials last week a proposed new Florida agreement. Committee members made it clear they looked for establishment of a pact early in the shipping season.

C. M. Brown, Redlands, Calif., declared the industry's greatest need was the elimination of all grapefruit shipments except those of first and second grades. This program, he said, would remove a third of the grapefruit supply and would help in solving the orange problem.

He criticized the industry in Florida and Texas for permitting the canning of third grade fruit. Canneries, he said, would be restricted to the use of first and second grades.

The Californian said the chief problem of the orange industry in his state was an oversupply of grapefruit from other sections.

L. P. Kirkland, Auburndale, Fla., said he agreed elimination of low grade grapefruit would be helpful, but added the industry and the AAA must face the fact there were some growers whose crops consisted largely of third grade.

At the same time Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman, said salary cuts made last winter would be restored.

The increase in employment, it was said, was in connection with expansion and production of 1939 models.

"Our new models have been well received," Sloan said. "There appears to be a greater interest than existed a year ago."

BUDAPEST. (AP)—Thousands of university students demonstrated on Budapest boulevards today demanding arms to enforce Hungary's territorial demands on Czechoslovakia.

The demonstrators asked "everything back" from the republic created out of the pre-war Austro-Hungarian empire.

Buena Park Chief Now Is Out $75.99

Fire Chief Percy Owens of Buena Park, who thought the county was going to pay his $75.99 expense for attending a convention in Salt Lake City, found out differently today.

The board of supervisors, which last week agreed to pay Owens the expense money, today reversed itself and canceled its last week's action. Owners had attended the convention without authorization.

Hospital Drops $1414 in Claims

Orange County hospital today was permitted to scratch $1414.75 in bad debts off its books—but a list will be kept on file so any clients who feel a twinge of conscience later can pay up, if they want to.

On motion of Supervisor Harry Riley, the board of supervisors accepted recommendation of Dr. Harry Zaiser, superintendent, that the debts be written off as uncollectable.

Fullerton Morals Case Is on Trial

Trial of David Mann of Brea, accused of a morals offense with a young Fullerton negro, continued today behind closed doors in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court.

Newman Golden, the negro, testified Mann gave him 20 cents and a sweater, and later charged him with theft of the sweater.

Judge Ames ordered juveniles and other witnesses excluded from the courtroom as the trial began.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Warren Schultz and George Tobias are prosecuting, with Z. B. West of Santa Ana defending Mann.

Chaplin Reduces Tax by $194,972

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Charles Chaplin, film comedian, saved $194,972 by appealing a federal claim for additional taxes on his 1933 income.

The government originally sought $254,972, but settled for $60,000, records showed today.

Snappy Answer For Hitler

LONDON. (AP)—Former Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today replied to Reichsfuehrer Hitler's oratorical attacks with the declaration "there are no war-mongers among us."

Speaking at the 122nd annual meeting of the International Peace society Eden, who resigned Feb. 21 in protest against Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's policy of dealing with dictators, at the same time presented the case for an all-party government to replace Chamberlain's regime.

DEFENSE URGED

He declared Britain must organize for defense or "our authority will continue to decline in a world which is rearming to the teeth and organized for war."

If this can be done more efficiently and speedily by "a government in which all parties are represented, then the case for such a government is surely unanswerable," he declared.

Chamberlain's national government gets virtually its entire support from Conservative party ranks.

HITLER ANSWERED

The ex-foreign secretary's reference to "war mongers" was in reply to Hitler's Saarland speech Oct. 10 when he said "there are those abroad who do not want peace... Supposing after Chamberlain there came Cooper or Eden or Churchill? They are the men who would like to make war."

These three—Eden, former first lord of the admiralty, Alf Duff Cooper, and Winston Churchill—have been the leaders of Conservative opposition to Chamberlain's foreign policy.

Eden in his speech today urged that Britain use her strength "not to impose our will as to the fate of this territory or that, but to uphold certain standards in the conduct of foreign affairs."

"If the sanctity of contract between nations is no longer respected, if we are to turn a blind eye to even the grossest breach of international faith if all the nations are to break all their promises all the time, the world will degenerate until it will resemble a zoological garden in which all the animals have been loosed at once."

Mrs. Barnett Still Retains Mansion Despite U. S. Men

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Two peacefully inclined government men scratched around today for "ways and means" of evicting defiant Anna Laura Barnett, widow of wealthy Indian Jackson Barnett, from her colonial mansion on Wilshire boulevard.

Two months ago Mrs. Barnett was ordered to vacate the premises on the ground that the highest courts had declared her double marriage to Barnett invalid.

A 60 day extension was granted by Attorney General Homer S. Cummings. This expired last Saturday and U. S. Marshal Bob Clark was notified to carry out the eviction.

Garden Grove to Vote Nov. 15

Garden Grove residents will vote Nov. 15 on annexation of about 200 acres to Orange county water works district No. 3.

County supervisors fixed the election date today when no protests were forthcoming at a public hearing for addition to the territory to the district.

Northern Millmen Settle Strike

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—Five hundred striking planing mill employes in Alameda county returned to their jobs today following settlement reached last night covering 2000 mill men in six counties.

Two AFL mill men's locals, No. 42 in San Francisco and No. 550 in Oakland, approved a wage offer of mill operators for $8.50 for an eight-hour day. They struck last week when operators declined to accept an arbitration award of $9 a day, or an increase of $1.

40 Injured When Air Tank Explodes

FRANKSVILLE, Wis. (AP)—Forty children were injured, none seriously, when an air tank on the water heating system in the Franksville grade school exploded with terrific force today.

The blast shattered the interior of the building.

Most of the injured were between the ages of 10 and 14 years.

Jury Opens Probe Of Juvenile Home

All Levee Bids Out

County supervisors today threw into the wastebasket contractors' bids for the $150,000 job of reconstructing Santa Ana river levees and decided that the county's flood control district will do the work itself on force account instead of giving the job to a contractor.

Discarding of the bids was authorized after a heated argument involving unit bids on the reconstruction job, and was carried by a 4 to 1 vote with Supervisor N. E. West voting "no" and asking for more time to consider the job.

LAWSUIT FEARED

The hitch in the proceedings was a bid by the United Concrete Pipe company of $150,896 for the entire six units of the job—lowest total bid if its own unit bids were not considered. The United firm had placed its bid on an "all or none" basis—it would do the whole job cheaper than the other bidders, or it would do none. Although United's total bid was low, two other firms bid lower on three units of the construction.

"We're going to get tied up in a lawsuit no matter what we do if we let these contracts," said Supervisor John Mitchell.

DELAY OPPOSED

"This is not the time to delay or try to do the job on force account," said Lew Blodgett, Santa Ana attorney who appeared for Basich Bros. and Famularo and Landreth, low bidders on units 3, 4 and 6. "The people of this county expect flood protection and they are entitled to it."

As a result of the vote, supervisors must ask permission of the state engineer and attorney general to do the work themselves. If this permission is denied, they may have to advertise for bids all over again, Blodgett warned.

RUTH ETTING SUED FOR BALM

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Ruth Etting never sang a torch song so full of woe as this day held for her.

To add to the troubles of the radio songbird, after her first husband shot her second mate, the latter's second wife sued flaxen haired Ruth for $150,000 love theft damages.

Alma Alderman, a willowy blonde, charged that Myrl Alderman, Miss Etting's one-time piano player, has been living with her as husband and wife "under a pretended marriage."

It was pretended, the plaintiff alleged, because her own divorce from Alderman does not become final until next Dec. 2.

An explanation was not immediately forthcoming from Miss Etting, who had said after Alderman was wounded in her home last Saturday night, that they were married in Tijuana, Mex., last July 15.

Told police investigators could find no record of the ceremony, the singer said: "There are some things a woman has a right to keep secret."

L. A. Jury Probes Civil Service

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The Los Angeles county grand jury opened its investigation of the Los Angeles civil service situation today in cooperation with the city attorney's office and the district attorney.

Arthur Cline Questioned in Leaflet Probe

Their attention diverted this morning by the juvenile home situation, the specially called county grand jury called but one witness yesterday in its probe of the "Fools Rush In" political pamphlet case.

He was Arthur B. Cline of Corona del Mar, facing a charge of possession of marijuana, who was called for questioning yesterday afternoon. Cline, according to justice court testimony, was connected with circulation of a letter attacking Mayor Dan Mulholland of San Clemente, candidate for fifth district supervisor in the primary campaign.

Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen conferred with the grand jury at length yesterday morning, indicating that perhaps the jury had almost reached the end of its rope in investigating origin of the pamphlet. Several unidentified witnesses appeared near the grand jury room this morning, but none was called.

VETERANS ACT

Meanwhile the Anaheim post of the Legion went on record opposing action of the county council last Friday, terming charges made against the court and home "politically inspired."

R. S. Norton of Balboa Island, who made the charges before the Legion's council here last Friday, appeared before county supervisors to ask what control that board had over conduct of the detention home. He was told the county board had no jurisdiction and merely paid the bills; and he commented that members of the juvenile committee, appointed by the judge of the juvenile court, may be removed by their fellows and the judge "for cause."

CHARGES MADE

Norton, in speaking before the Legion council here last week, demanded to know "why it is that Orange county has more delinquent children than any other county in the state of similar population" and why more boys are sent to Preston School of Industry and Whittier State school from here than from other counties.

He charged that children in the home are locked in cells in the basement, that there is no segregation of those suffering from social diseases and that inmates are underfed.

JUDGE REPLIES

Judge Ames today addressed letters to the grand jury and to Gaylor Fanning of Laguna Beach, commander of the Legion's county council.

"What I have no authority or control of the administration of the juvenile detention home," the judge wrote to the grand jury, "I am intensely interested in its management, because it is often my unfortunate duty to commit boys and girls to that institution, and certainly I would not issue commitments to an institution where conditions obtain as described by Mr. Norton and other speakers."

WELCOMES PROBE

"If it is true that a judicial tribunal exists in Orange county where substantial constitutional rights are denied, and where a fair and impartial trial cannot be had and the proceedings are further conducted in the manner of a Nazi dictator, such a situation demands immediate investigation by some impartial body clothed with the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, including Mr. Norton, and eliciting from them whatever information they may have."

"The opinion expressed by Mr. Norton would be of no concern (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Salzburg, Germany. (AP)—Anti-clerical demonstrators smashed windows in the archbishop of Salzburg's palace last night and shouted derision of the Catholic archbishop, Dr. Sigmund Waiz, whose province includes a large part of former Austria.

The demonstration started with derisive whistling under the palace windows in the early evening.

Soon the demonstrators were reinforced by a crowd which marched from the city's outskirts to the archbishop's residence shouting, "Away with Waiz."

At the climax of the outbreak missiles were thrown smashing numerous windows in the palace.

Stalin Orders Destruction of A. F. L., House Committee Told

SIT-DOWNS IN AUTO PLANTS LAID TO ALIENS

WASHINGTON. (AP)—A witness for the house committee investigating anti-American activities testified today that Joseph Stalin, Russian Communist dictator, had ordered outright destruction of the American Federation of Labor.

The witness was Jacob Spolansky of Detroit, a criminal investigator under the Wayne county, Michigan, sheriff. In confidential language, he told the committee that Stalin at a Moscow conference had ordered Communist agents in America to boost the cause of industrial unionism, and to expand activity among negroes.

Spolansky attributed to Communists a major part in the sitdown strikes which have broken out in industry in recent years, particularly in automobile manufacturing plants.

Some of the sitdown ideas, he told Chairman Dies (D., Tex.), came from France and Italy but the major industrial program was Russian-inspired.

"Following the conference in Moscow," Spolansky said, "the Communists adopted a different procedure in industrial fields. They wanted to form a dual organization to the A. F. of L. and give it the proper revolutionary tendencies."

Spolansky said similar testimony by him in Detroit had aroused the anger of labor's non-partisan league, the CIO's political branch.

Spolansky told the committee that Communists completely dominated the CIO station in Detroit and that Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers, was "scheduled for the slaughter house."

Communists assembled in Detroit, the witness said, to engineer sitdown strikes with the hidden purpose of creating chaos in industry.

"The Communists don't want industrial justice remedied," Spolansky asserted. "They are working toward overthrow of the government and this cannot be accomplished without general paralyzing of industry."

Spolansky said the Communists' discontent, and resentment of the people toward their government.

Aid Pledged to College Project

Secretary Howard I. Wood of the Santa Ana chamber of commerce today had been authorized by the board of directors to extend an invitation to trustees of Chapman College of Los Angeles to move its plant to San Juan Capistrano.

Negotiations for moving the college and building a $700,000 plant at Capistrano are now underway. The chamber pledged its support to the efforts of Capistrano citizens seeking the college.

Spanish Civil War Practically Stops

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish Frontier). (AP)—Insurgent preoccupation with international politics caused a virtual suspension of hostilities in the Spanish civil war today.

The Spanish government's strategy recently has been to hold strong defense positions in the hope that Generalissimo Francisco Franco's troops would wear themselves out by repeated offensives.

politics with him, but when he expressed a sympathetic attitude toward the farmer, and his determination to remove as far as he was able the contributing causes for low prices of farm products, well, if he had a skirt on I'd of kissed him.

Haven't had time today to look at the map of Europe, but if it has changed overnight, "it ain't news."

And then there are a few ranchers who are so afraid there won't be enough rainfall this season, they are almost in favor of another flood.

These are times when it is a good thing to use your head, if there is anything in it. Philosophy, is it? I rather think the philosopher meant to keep your feet on the ground, and that would be using your head, strange as it may seem.

Letter from Millard Browne, half ironical, half skeptical. If there could have been another half it might have been insulting. That's why I am in favor of two halves.

The proposed removal of Chapman college to Orange county would be particularly appropriate. The college was inspired and largely financed by C. C. Chapman of Fullerton. San Juan Capistrano would be a delightful setting for the school. I am not familiar with the reasons for considering a removal from Los Angeles to some other location, but assume that an indebtedness could be considered, if not entirely satisfied, without any serious injury to the institution. If that is the case, it would seem like wise financing.

CHILDREN WILL BE FED

A $50,000 WPA project for feeding undernourished school children was ready to get under way today, following official approval by county supervisors, who will act as technical sponsors.

F. P. Jayne, head of the professional, technical and women's work division of WPA, explained that the $9600 sponsor's share, for food and equipment, was being furnished by school districts and Parent-Teacher associations; but that, being a county-wide project, the board of supervisors should be nominal sponsor. The federal government will pay $40,259 in wages for about 75 women for a year.

Telephone Co. Protests Taxes

Suit for $5101.05 in taxes paid under protest was filed today in superior court against the county of Orange by the Southern California Telephone company.

Also on file today was a similar suit against the Orange County Water district for $9.75. The company claims its office and equipment properties all over Southern California have been wrongfully assessed; and its first suit now is before the state supreme court. Subsequent actions are being filed to keep its claim alive each year.

DEMOCRATS RESET RALLY FOR SATURDAY

Advancement of the date of the countywide Democratic rally, originally scheduled for Sunday afternoon in the Santa Ana Municipal bowl, was announced today by J. Wayne Harrison, county campaign manager.

The change in date and location was made necessary when it was decided to combine the Orange county appearances of Sheridan Downey, candidate for United States senator; Ellis E. Patterson, candidate for lieutenant-governor and Congress Harry Sheppard.

The countywide rally will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday in Birch park at which time all three candidates will speak. Saturday night they will make their second Orange county appearance at a rally to be held in the Civic auditorium in Huntington Beach.

Assemblyman Clyde Watson, candidate for reelection from the 74th assembly district, and Burr Brown, Seal Beach city attorney who is seeking election from the 75th district, also will be on the program at both meetings.

Harrison announced that a band concert will be given in Birch park preceding the talks by Downey, Patterson and Sheppard.

Patterson rearranged his speaking schedule to include the day in Orange county at the urgent request of Democrats of this area who heard him talk briefly at the recent dinner meeting in American Legion hall.

John B. Dockweiler, originally scheduled to speak with Downey at the Orange county mass meeting, will be heard at another rally to be held at a later date.

GRAND JURORS OPEN JUVENILE HOME PROBE

to me, were it not for the fact that a splendid, patriotic organization took sufficient cognizance of his charges to authorize an investigation by a committee. . . I heartily welcome any investigation by any responsible organization. . . I respectfully request an immediate investigation, not only into the conduct of the juvenile detention home, but also in the conduct of proceedings of the juvenile court, and may I offer to your honorable body my full and hearty cooperation in any such investigation which you may undertake."

His letter to Commander Fanning assured the Legion that I will welcome any impartial investigation. . . and offer to you my full and hearty cooperation. . . If such conditions exist I desire to cause their immediate removal.

"The charges made by Mr. Norton and others are not new ones. During the past year and a half they have been reiterated many times, and during the session of the 1937 grand jury, I personally requested that body to make a thorough and exhaustive investigation into the conditions existing in the juvenile detention home. Such investigation was made and the accusations were found to be wholly untrue."

He pointed out that the Legion committee had no legal powers such as those conferred on the grand jury, and urged that in addition to consideration of the matter by the Legion committee, all "purported evidence be immediately submitted to the grand jury at the earliest possible date, in order that the public may be advised as to the truth of these charges."

This Is Enough to Crack Poker Face Of a Hotel Clerk

SAN FRANCISCO. (AP)—The poker face that a good hotel desk clerk wears got a severe test today at a swank Nob Hill hotel when a man asked for "a room with 11 beds."

He was 75-year-old Dr. St. Louis Estes, vegetarian and believer in semi-nudism, proper breathing and sunshine. With him were his wife and the 11 children—five boys all named St. Louis after their father, with a number attached to each, and six girls, Suzanne, Dixielou, Natacha, Dimple, Chickadee and Honeyuckle.

The tribe moved into the hotel penthouse and took possession, for the duration of Estes' lecture series on health.

The twelfth Estes child is expected in December.

BONELLI FEE IN H. B. OIL DEAL CHARGED

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Testimony that William Bonelli, new member of the state board of equalization, received, as private counsel for an oil company last year, a fee of $1000 in connection with an easement deal for drilling rights in the Huntington Beach oil field, provoked a controversy today before the state personnel board.

The board is hearing removal charges against Carl Sturzenacker and A. H. Alexander, suspended chief and inspector, respectively, of the state land division. They are accused of irregularities in connection with oil drilling permits.

Ray Maggart, independent oil operator, testified he discussed with Bonelli the possibility of obtaining an easement of a lot east of 23rd street, Huntington Beach, and then having the drilling rights transferred to other areas of the field. He said Bonelli promised to look into the matter and later reported he had located an easement owned by the Sierra-Huntling company, which he thought could be purchased.

As a result, Maggart said, the Magnor Oil company was formed. Then Bonelli told him and R. A. Norelius, an official of the company, he could obtain the easement if they would pay him $1000. Bonelli said he yesterday the easement was purchased and that he obtained Sturzenacker's approval for transfer of the drilling rights to an area west of 23rd street, and a permit to drill 60 wells. This transaction is involved in the Sturzenacker-Alexander charges.

Maggart said Norelius paid Bonelli the $1000. He testified Bonelli said he would use part of the money for attorney fees and other expenses and might need more.

E. H. Christian of the personnel board interrupted to say "I don't see what Bonelli's attorney fees have to do with this case," and another member, Arthur Brown, agreed with him.

Frank Perry, attorney prosecuting the case, pointed out that Bonelli was the one who made the arrangements with Sturzenacker. "Mr. Bonelli," said Christian, "is a respected member of the bar and has a perfect right to accept legal fees, and I, for one, don't want to hear anything more about it."

"Well, I disagree with you," said Perry.

"I expected you to."

"And I expect to disagree with you as long as you are sitting there," Perry flared back.

Chairman Fred Wood, finally called a halt to the fee angle.

U. S. INDUSTRY HELD OBJECT OF NAZI SPY

over United States army and navy information was "very critical" of his progress.

Sanders, he testified, asked him to send him two catalogues of the U. S. government printing office, with a list of all army and aviation publications.

Rumrich supplied the catalogues.

"Sanders replied that I wasn't prompt enough in complying with his request," he said, "particularly in regard to booklets he requested."

The booklets, Rumrich explained, were confidential military publications.

ONLY $40 PAID
The first letter he received from Sanders, he said, was postmarked Hamburg, Germany. The others were postmarked from the New York metropolitan area and presumably were mailed after being carried here by someone other than Sanders.

Rumrich said he moved from Brooklyn to the Bronx, and received a letter from Sanders some time later asking why he had not written.

"He said he was very anxious to contact me," the witness said. Up to that time, he said, he had received only $40 for his work as a spy.

ASKS MORE MONEY
He wrote Sanders that he was "in straitened circumstances and would have to have financial support," he testified. Sanders replied he would have to take up the matter with the "war ministry."

Sanders, according to Rumrich, told him "to send him anything I had."

"I had a couple of old booklets and photographs. I sent him those. One of the booklets was a training manual. The other booklet dealt with military salutations. The photographs were shot of troops on parade I made in the Canal Zone."

"Next he asked me for the names of commanding officers in the metropolitan area."

$50 PAID
There were no more letters by mail, Rumrich said. His next letter was delivered by hand by a "Mr. Schmidt."

"Schmidt called me at my office and said he had just returned from abroad and would like to call on me."

He said Schmidt handed him a letter containing $50 in American money in $5 bills.

Rumrich said Schmidt told him to sign the receipt which was in the letter, using the name of "Theodore Koerner."

When Schmidt asked him if he had anything to send, Rumrich said, he told him to wait while he looked around.

POSTCARD IDENTIFICATION
"I looked in a drawer, got my photograph album, and gave him a couple of photographs. In the letter Sanders told me he had received advice from his Central that I would be allowed the sum of $50 monthly for my family's support."

Sanders, he said, enclosed a postcard with directions to tear it in two, keep half himself and give Schmidt the other half. From that time on, Sanders ordered, every person who came to see him must produce the other half of the postcard.

Japanese Visions British Defeat By Hitler Bluff

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Jiuji Kasai, member of the Japanese house of representatives and recently a delegate to the Hague international parliamentary union, made a diplomatic second guess today on the European situation.

"If Great Britain and France had not backed down," Kasai told interviewers, "Hitler would have done so."

"His (Chamberlain's) actions lowered Britain's prestige throughout the world, and additionally gave the Germans material advantages which will now make a war—which everyone abroad believes inevitable—much harder for England and France to win."

That announcement was made today by C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

He said the proposed relief legislation has three features; integrated relief administration, a maximum of local administration, and a minimum of local financing.

Under the plan, Marks said, local financing of relief would not exceed 25 per cent of the total cost, with state and national sources supplying 75 per cent.

Reason for this, he said, is that local financing is based entirely on property taxes, while the state and national governments have other resources besides property taxes.

Marks explained that local financing is well over half the total cost of relief.

GLENN HARVEY NAMED TO HIGH MASONIC POST

Glen Harvey, superintendent of mails at the Santa Ana postoffice, today had been appointed senior grand steward of California Masons.

He was appointed by Leon Whitsett, formerly of Orange, who has just taken office as grand master of the state Masonic order. Whitsett, a member of the state railroad commission, is the first Orange county Mason to become grand master.

Harvey's appointment as senior grand steward gives Orange county another state officer in the Masonic order. Harvey has been a member of the local lodge since 1902. He has been superintendent of mails here since 1917.

A. H. Allen, of Santa Ana, will continue in the position of inspector of the 100th district, it was learned.

NEW SETUP IN RELIEF WORK PROJECTED

A tentative proposal changing the relief set-up in California has been formulated by a committee from the California Taxpayers' association, state chamber of commerce, and the state farm bureau for presentation to the next session of the legislature.

That announcement was made today by C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

He said the proposed relief legislation has three features; integrated relief administration, a maximum of local administration, and a minimum of local financing.

Under the plan, Marks said, local financing of relief would not exceed 25 per cent of the total cost, with state and national sources supplying 75 per cent.

Prague Saves Zoo From Sale to Nazis

PRAGUE, (AP)—The Prague zoo population won't be sold to Germany after all.

Rigid economy forced by the days of crisis threatened zoo rations, but a public appeal brought hay for the elephants, honey for the bears, and a special beefsteak given by a butcher to his favorite tiger.

Increased zoo attendance brought new funds, so a plan to sell many of the animals to Germany was abandoned.

Suspect Returned Here to Face 11-Year-Old Murder Charge

CONFESSION OF KILLING MADE, SHERIFF SAYS

Eleven years of fleeing from the law had ended today for Nikola Bezeila, alias Mike Grogan, 41-year-old transient, when he was returned from Batavia, N. Y., to face murder charges here.

Hunted ever since 1927 for the murder of Clayton Sharriz, elderly transient, in a hobo camp near the Orange county hospital, Grogan was returned here this morning by Deputy Sheriffs Steve Duhart and Frank Cagle. Arraigned before Justice Kenneth Morrison, Grogan heard preliminary hearing set for next Monday morning.

"He has made a full confession," said Sheriff Logan Jackson. "He said Sharriz knocked him out and robbed him of $90 after they had worked in the cotton fields, and he said he trailed that man for months, determined to kill him."

Grogan assertedly confessed that he borrowed a shotgun and purchased ammunition for it when he finally found Sharriz in the river-bank camp, and "blew his head off."

The short, swarthy Pole appeared relieved, Jackson said, that his years of flight were ended. The murder occurred June 14, 1927, and Grogan has been sought ever since.

At one point in the search Jackson advertised in a detective magazine—and the advertisement led to capture of a suspect near Phoenix, Ariz., who looked almost exactly like the murder suspect, the sheriff said. Fingerprints worked in Arizona was not Grogan, but also proved the Phoenix man was wanted for a robbery in that state.

Finally Grogan was arrested last month on a vagrancy charge in Batavia. His fingerprints were sent in a routine manner to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington—and revealed he was wanted in Orange county for murder.

8TH NATIONAL EUCHARISTIC MEET OPENS

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—A solemn high pontifical mass conducted by George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago formally opened the eighth national eucharistic congress here today.

Sixty bishops and archbishops, in capes and mitres symbolizing the union of the old law and the new, preceded the cardinal, legate of Pope Pius XI, as he marched to the altar.

Trumpets blew, a hymn flew lazily over the huge dome of the canopy above the altar and the great crucifix, and an organ with amplifiers poured Latin hymns over the 50,000 Catholics who gathered in a park stadium for the opening ceremony.

Several hundred monsignors, knights of St. Gregory, fourth degree Knights of Columbus, all in dark uniforms with silver swords, and two men dressed in knee breeches in the costume of Queen Elizabeth's days guarded the hierarchy.

A chorus of five hundred men's voices chanted during the mass. A White Christ on a crucifix hung suspended from the dome above the altar, probably more visible to the thousands of faithful who had come to the mass than much of the elaborate ceremony on the high altar.

Special assistant to the cardinal as he moved through the stages of the mass was Monsignor Ermanno Bonazzi, official ceremonialist of the Pope who sent him to serve in the same capacity for the cardinal, his legate.

Pope Pius XI, speaking from the Vatican by short wave radio and the domestic chains arranged to bestow the apostolic blessing.

Cardinal Mundelein arrived yesterday, participated in impressive ceremonies attended by thousands of worshippers, and was accorded a great religious and civic reception last night.

James A. Farley, postmaster general, read to the congress the greetings of President Roosevelt to Archbishop John Francis Rummel of New Orleans.

"I doubt if there is any problem in the world today," the President wrote—"social, political or economic—that would not find happy solution if approached in the spirit of the sermon on the mount."

"May your prayers hasten the day when both men and nations will bring their lives into conformity with the teachings of him, who is the way, the light and the truth."

Singing Prizefighter Wins Freedom From L. A. Jail by Posting Bail; Hearing Is Set

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Jack Doyle, who sings, boxes and travels in society, but who currently is involved in a dispute with the immigration service, remarked today how nice it was to be out of jail.

"I was never so embarrassed and humiliated," he declared. "It's the first time I've ever been in such a predicament. They say I entered the United States illegally, but I don't see how that can be, for I have all of my credentials with me."

The singing prize fighter, known variously as "The Irish Trush" and "The Mild Irish Rose," is at liberty on $1000 bond, pending a hearing next Monday on possible deportation, because he assertedly flew from Montreal to New York after being refused admission at the border because he lacked a valid medical certificate. Arrested Sunday, he was held in jail until yesterday.

Monday's hearing will be secret, and the proceedings forwarded to Washington for possible action, Inspector Judson Shaw said.

Meanwhile, however, Doyle was enjoying himself in the film capital. He said he could not believe reports that Delphine Dodge Godde, automobile heiress, "no longer loves me."

As for Actress Judith Allen, who sued Mrs. Godde for $20,000, 000 alleging that she alienated Doyle's affections, the singer observed:

"She's a lovely girl. I still love her very much."

10 MOTORISTS TAKEN BEFORE CITY'S COURT

Ten traffic offenders, two of them alleged drunk drivers, were fined or jailed by City Judge J. G. Mitchell in yesterday's session of Santa Ana city court, while five others appeared on drunk charges.

Albert Daniel, Anaheim, received a fine of $150 for drunk driving. Juan Medina, route 4, box 646, was committed in the county jail in lieu of paying a $150 fine for the same charge.

Speeders fined included Wilbert W. Stickler, 328 West Eighth street, $8; Lewis Daves, 815 East Third street, $6; and George Hoffman, Los Angeles, $6. Five persons were fined $1 each for overtime parking, including Helen C. Goldsmith, Long Beach; William R. Hynd, 1230 South Sycamore; Imogene McCauley, 1242 South Van Ness; Clarence Swain, Edgar hotel; and Max Solomon, Santa Ana.

Clarence Leslie Low, Alhambra, was committed in the county jail for a 10-day term for vagrancy. Charged with intoxication were Elwood Hall, 558 East Fourth street, jailed in lieu of paying a $5 fine; Moses Gardea, 2322 Evergreen, $15; George Salisbury, 110 East Second street, $15; William Wagner, Orange, $15; William Wray, Fullerton, $15; Mickey Orasco, Santa Ana, $15.

Suspect Held as Bruneman Slayer

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Federal agents held one suspect in secret custody today while hunting two others indicted for the slaying of George (Les) Bruneman, Los Angeles gambler, a year ago.

Herbert Dudley Ryan, ex-convict, was apprehended in a distant city on a federal warrant charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, it was disclosed.

Under indictment with Ryan are Pete Planezzi and Jackie Kane.

FRED GASKILL TRIAL AGAIN MEETS DELAY

Trial of Fred Gaskill on felony charges, once postponed pending recovery of a witness who died during the postponement, was continued again today.

Superior Judge H. G. Ames, who is hearing the case, postponed trial until Wednesday while Dr. J. M. Burlew, court-appointed physician, examines Gaskill to determine whether or not lead poisoning, from which the defendant assertedly suffers, might not cause symptoms which had been interpreted as those of intoxication.

Trial of the case began two weeks ago, but was recessed pending possible recovery of J. W. Buck, who had become ill since the accident. Mr. Buck died, however, before he was available as a witness.

Gaskill is accused of being intoxicated when his car struck the Buck machine at Fifth and Sycamore streets July 16, injuring Mrs. Susan Buck and Mrs. Roxie Bennett, passengers.

'Identification' Fails to Convict Suspected Bandit

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Irving Jordan, negro "identified" as one of three bandits who kidnaped, robbed and beat a telephone operator and her escort last May 22, was acquitted by a jury today of six felony charges.

Virginia Easton, Venice, and Don Pringle, Santa Monica, were victims of the attack. Miss Easton said she recognized Jordan.

Jordan, however, produced six witnesses who testified that he attended a funeral in Fresno shortly before the time of the kidnapping.

Administration's Program to Aid Farmers Has Collapsed, G. O. P. Chairman Declares

MONTPELIER, Ohio, (AP)—John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, declared today the administration's farm program has "collapsed."

"A glance at the current prices of wheat, corn, cotton and other farm products is evidence of that fact," Hamilton asserted in an address prepared for a tri-state party rally here.

"What an incongruous situation we now have," he added, "with the New Deal and Mr. Wallace, on the one hand, demanding that farmers restrict their production—refrain from growing even enough grain to feed their livestock, and the New Deal and Mr. Hull, on the other, lowering our tariff walls so that foreign producers may ship their grain and their meats into this country."

"An economy of scarcity for the American farmer—a free market here for the world—that is what the conflicting New Deal policies total. It is like trying to ride at the same time two horses going in opposite directions. We are bound to fall to the ground."

Hamilton said the "American market must be secured for the American farmer" through tariffs on farm imports as a "common sense approach" to the farm problem.

Secretary Howard I. Wood said the committee would meet with the state highway commission to secure information on the transportation situation, which was described as one of Southern California's biggest problems.

Committeemen include C. H. Hoiles, chairman; Ernest Layton, Pat Doane, David Carmichael, E. B. Sharpley, Ray Goodell, H. P. Rankin, George A. Parker and James B. Utt.

ECHOLS TAKES COMMAND OF GUARD UNIT

First Lieut. Leonard E. Echols today had taken over command of Company L, 185th Infantry, California national guard, succeeding Capt. Robert P. Kellogg, who has moved away.

At ceremonies last night, First Lieut. Emmett A. Rink, in temporary command of the unit since Aug. 15, presented the company to Lieut. Echols after the regular inspection.

Meanwhile Lieutenant Echols relinquishing command of Headquarters company, in which he has held the dual capacity of company commander and battalion adjutant, to Second Lieut. Kermit H. G. McCoy.

The change in commands of the two local national guard units—company—was made known in a regimental order effective as of Oct. 16. Transfer of state and federal property from Captain Kellogg to Lieutenant Echols was negotiated Sunday, under supervision of Captain Kastler of the state staff from Los Angeles.

In assuming command of Company I, Lieutenant Echols said a recruiting campaign will get under way at once, and all young men over 18 are invited to visit the units here.

"Organization of this kind," the new commander said, "are the only means by which military-minded youths can turn for training in military science and tactics and hold their civilian status."

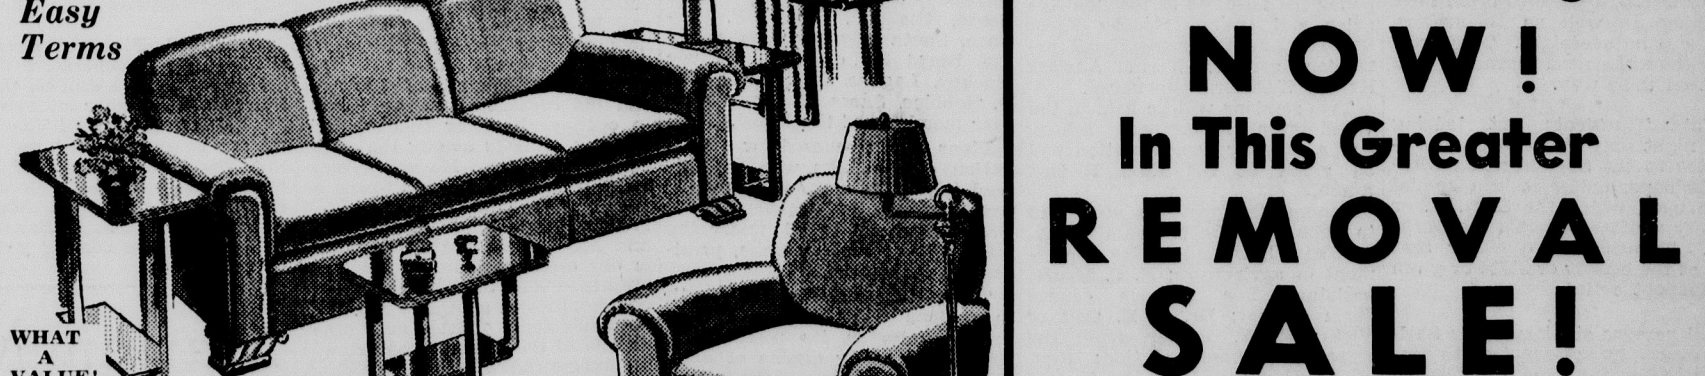

Lieutenant Echols' Headquarters company ranks high in the state both in military rating and drill attendance, having received high praise from superior officers in the national guard as well as in the regular army.

I Just Found Out About Orange County

By BOB SWANSON

Salvation

"If you want to win a man, feed him first and preach to him afterwards."

Upon that credo was a worldwide army born. It is devoted to the two-fold task of bringing the church to the people, and giving relief to the needy. It's called the Salvation Army.

"The Salvation Army is not a church, although it encompasses many of the activities of the church, nor is it exactly a charitable organization. It is a church-mission, organized in the manner of the military."

Maj. John Naton, commanding officer of the Santa Ana corps, points out that through open meetings and street preaching the Salvation Army aims to provide opportunities for religious thought to those who have never been to church, or to former churchmen who no longer attend.

During the last fiscal year, the local Salvation Army held 186 open-air meetings and 304 indoor meetings, plus 167 young people's meetings. Attendance at these evangelistic gatherings totaled more than 25,000 during the year.

Street preaching is carried on regularly. The Salvation Army holds a street service here every Saturday night at Fourth and Sycamore streets.

The other phase—relief—includes family relief, emergency relief, transient relief, and providing a haven of refuge for young unmarried mothers who are alone in the world or cast out by their families.

The Army makes a special effort on holidays, especially Christmas, to provide extra cheer for poor families. Family relief is carried on throughout the year. Example: the father of a family of seven was laid off recently. Not being physically strong or very alert mentally, he found it difficult to find a job. The Salvation Army supplied food, clothing and necessities, while trying to find the man a job.

Emergency relief work was demonstrated during the March flood. The Santa Ana corps' building on Sycamore street and the Shelter on East Third street, were thrown open for flood refugees. Husbands and fathers of stricken families were cared for at the headquarters building, while the women and children were cared for at the Shelter.

Most constant, and most tragic of the Salvation Army's relief work is with transients. Year-in and year-out these counsellors—many broken in mind and body—pour into the Salvation Army shelter for an overnight stay, move on next day to another town.

The transients are cared for at the Shelter at 818 East Third street. Here they are given something to eat, a place to clean their clothing as well as themselves, and lodging overnight. They have breakfast the next morning, then sent on their way.

Note: Transients get lodging one night only and cannot be admitted to the Shelter again within 30 days, unless it is a special case upon which S. R. A. or county welfare officials do anything. Transients are either sent out of the county or state or given permanent relief.

All persons staying in the Shelter overnight are required to register; also, to leave information as to where they came from, where they are going, and their ages.

From 10 to 15 and even as high as 25 transients are cared for at the Shelter each night. Each transient is given a steaming hot bath, and a cold bath, he's then given a clean nightgown and put to bed. His clothes are put in the fumigator overnight.

All transients get up in the morning at about 6:30 or 7 a. m., and eat breakfast together. Some men who help with the housework are permitted to stay for lunch at noon.

Only reason for barring a transient from the Shelter is drunkenness. Those who are ill or suffering from diseases are taken to the hospital.

Major Naton points out that the Salvation Army fulfills a peculiarly vacant spot in the relief picture: "Suppose you're down and out, discouraged, desperate with hunger and cold. You try to get arrested so you can get inside a warm jail where you can eat a meal—but officers won't arrest you because you haven't done anything. Suppose you're half starved, half-dead with fatigue and suffering. But you're not sick, so the hospitals can't take care of you. The Salvation Army is the only thing left."

The Salvation Army is organized along military lines, with Mr. and Mrs. Naton in charge locally. Commanding officers are shifted from city to city regularly; all other officers are entirely local, however. Mrs. Naton has been in Salvation Army work since she was eight years of age.

Anaheim Legion Post Opposes Council's Action on Juvenile Home

ATTACK HELD INSPIRED BY POLITICAL AIM

ANAHEIM.—Anaheim post of the American Legion last night went on record by an unanimous vote as opposed to the action of the Orange county council of the Legion at its recent meeting in Santa Ana at which an investigation of the Orange county detention home and the juvenile court was urged.

Commander Grant Rude declared the members of Anaheim post believe the county council's action was politically inspired, and tends to cast discredit on a jurist of high standing, in whose province rests disposition of juvenile delinquency cases, and on the several members of the county's juvenile committee.

It was pointed out that Anaheim post has no objection to an investigation of the juvenile court and detention home, or of any other civic institution, by proper and qualified authorities, but it does protest such an investigation being demanded by any group immediately preceding an election in which the jurist is involved as a candidate.

It was further pointed out that last year's grand jury, composed of citizens of this county of unquestioned reputation, made an investigation of both detention home and juvenile court, and found that, while facilities at the detention home could be improved, it commended the management of the home and the functioning of the juvenile court.

It also was pointed out that the county council has no authority to bind the individual posts, or individual members, but can only recommend action, which before it becomes official and a matter for the press, must follow action by the respective posts of the county.

Action of the post follows: "It was regularly moved and seconded that Anaheim post No. 72 of the American Legion, at its meeting this 17th day of October do strenuously protest the action of the county council at its last meeting, October 14, in Santa Ana, in demanding an investigation by the Legion of the Orange county juvenile detention home and of the juvenile court. That Anaheim post believes the action politically inspired, ill advised and illegal, not within the province of said Orange county council. That Anaheim post offers its apology to those reputable public officials of the county, Orange county who were directly attacked by the council's action. Motion unanimously carried."

"Signed, 'ROY HELSING, Adjutant, 'GRANT RUDE, Commander.'"

AVOCADO MEN MEET FRIDAY

LA HABRA.—More than a thousand Southern California avocado growers will converge on La Habra Friday for their ninth annual institute.

The program will be conducted under the auspices of the Los Angeles and Orange County Farm Bureaus and the agricultural extension service, Farm Advisor Harold Wahlberg announced.

Two sessions will be held in the Washington Elementary school, and a pruning demonstration will be given at the Ross Hodson ranch.

Among the speakers scheduled to appear on the program are A. D. Shamel, United States department of agriculture; E. C. Moore, assistant Los Angeles county farm advisor; Dr. J. E. Coit of Vista; E. R. Parker, from the citrus experiment station; Prof. R. W. Hodgson, U. C. L. A.; and Carter Bennett, who will conduct the field demonstration.

R. H. Frantz, Roy Marsh and Ross Hodson are in charge of local arrangements.

$9 Bill Found On Stolen Auto

COSTA MESA.—To have one's car stolen is bad enough luck, but to be notified nearly two weeks later that the machine is impounded in a Wilmington garage where $3 storage costs have accrued, is the last straw, according to J. B. Richardson, cannery worker, of 544 Hamilton street.

According to Wilmington police, the car was found abandoned near that city shortly after being stolen from the Western cannery yard at Newport Beach, Oct. 6.

Kansas Vacation

COSTA MESA.—Mr. and Mrs. F. I. Flattery, 2533 Orange avenue, are enjoying six weeks' vacation in Kansas and other parts of the Middle West. During their absence their home will be occupied by Mrs. Flattery's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dishman who are erecting their new home at 236 East Eighteenth street.

called soldiers, are on call for special emergencies. Routine work is done by four or five regular members.

Joining the Salvation Army is done by conversion, as one would join a church. A member first becomes a recruit, and is on probation for three or six months.

Later Vacation Season to Include September Proposed By Leaders in Beach Towns

NEWPORT-BALBOA.—Adjustments of vacation dates better to conform to climate schedules is suggested in a request to the Orange county coast association for the appointment of a special committee to see what can be done to bring about a change.

President Carl H. Hankey of San Juan Capistrano has appointed Judge Fred S. Warner to head a committee with J. P. Greeley of Balboa to act as vice chairman of the group. Others who will work on this matter are Leo T. Koppl and A. F. Wilson of Huntington Beach, Dr. Carroll Vincent and Richard W. Rowland of Laguna Beach; C. A. Miller of Seal Beach; W. H. Crowfoot of Los Alamitos; and Sidney H. Davidson of the Newport Harbor Union High school.

Suggestions have frequently been advanced that vacations should start later and carry on later in the year in order that the warmer months of September might be included in the vacation period.

The committee will give the matter study and present a report and recommendations at an early date. Chairman Judge Warner of San Clemente will issue a call for a special meeting in a few days.

INSURANCE MEN OF COUNTY AT LAGUNA MEET

LAGUNA BEACH.—With Laguna Beach Insurance men as hosts, the Orange County Insurance exchange met there last night, closing a successful year under the leadership of M. E. Beebe of Anaheim.

Officers elected were Aubrey Lake, Fullerton, president; R. G. Cartwright, Santa Ana, vice president; Frank Crook, Fullerton, secretary-treasurer, with M. E. Beebe, Anaheim, and H. P. Harrison, Santa Ana, as members of the board of directors. Clyde Mackey, Laguna Beach, and Mac O. Robbins, Santa Ana, are hold-over members of the board.

Plans were discussed for a delegation of members who will attend the California Association of Insurance Agents' convention at Fresno, Oct. 24 to 26, under the leadership of Aubrey Lake, president-elect.

The exchange meets each month in various cities of the county, and includes in its membership fire and casualty agents of capital stock insurance companies. Programs are of an educational nature, and feature active round-table discussions.

Arrangements for last night's dinner and program were in charge of George E. Thompson of Laguna Beach.

Classmates Meet At Skating Party

GARDEN GROVE.—Lois Bradley and Betty Lou Noble joined in entertaining a group of their seventh grade classmates with a skating party at the Valencia ball-room Saturday evening.

Parents of the two young hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Al Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. William Noble were assisted by Mrs. Wayne Holt and Mrs. Oscar Miller in taking the young people to the skating rink. Returning to the Bradley home on West Stanford avenue, the group enjoyed various games and a treat of ice cream and cake.

Guests included Jackie Scott, Evelyn Miller, Carol German, Dorothy Schneider, Ada Bower, Ella Mae Rogers, Winifred Chaffee, Frankie Payne, Billy Cheney, Bobby Cozar, Norman Ross, Kenneth Holt, Lamar Johnston, Dean Bietler, Joseph Rojas, Stanley Bower, Elmer Humphry, and Stanley Barass.

5000 Registered At O. E. S. Session

OAKLAND, (AP)—More than 5000 delegates were registered here today for the opening sessions of the 65th annual national convention of the Order of Eastern Star. The convention will end Friday night. The delegates elect new officers tomorrow.

COMMITTEE IN G. G. TO BACK BILL NO. 1

GARDEN GROVE.—Organization of a citizens' committee to promote favorable interest in state initiative, proposition No. 1, which will appear on the ballot on Nov. 8, was affected at a meeting in the Garden Grove chamber of commerce offices last night.

J. A. Knapp, rancher, presided over the session as chairman. Other members of the committee named include E. L. Fritcher, H. Clay Kellogg, Richard Haster, W. E. Sullivan, C. P. Witte, Mrs. W. T. Kirven, Mrs. W. E. Sullivan and Mrs. L. L. Trickey.

During the meeting, Chairman Knapp outlined provisions of the measure and assigned members of the committee the responsibility of seeing that a discussion of the measure is heard by various clubs and organizations in the Garden Grove district.

"I am certain," Knapp told members of his committee, "that Orange county will give this measure a big favorable vote. The justice and fairness of this initiative appeals alike to employers, employees and the general public, who particularly would like to see some action taken to end the costly industrial warfare which has been raging in this state."

Formation of the Garden Grove committee is part of a county-wide movement to organize similar groups in every community of the county.

G. G. GIRL WED IN ARIZONA

GARDEN GROVE.—Announcement of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Ellen Elsie Oertly, to John Bert Spitzer of Long Beach was made today by Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Oertly.

The wedding took place in Yuma, Ariz., Saturday afternoon, Oct. 8, the couple being unattended. The bride wore an all-black crepe ensemble with matching black accessories and gardenia corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Garden Grove High school, later attending the University of California at Long Beach. She was graduated last January from the Seaside Nursing school at Long Beach. Her husband attended Long Beach schools and is now employed in the Texaco Oil company plant at Terminal Island. The couple have established their home at 3605 East Broadway, Long Beach.

MEASURES TO BE DISCUSSED

CYPRESS.—Measures on the ballot for the Nov. 8 election will be under discussion at directors' meeting of the Orange County Farm Bureau. Herbert Warren was elected vice president, and A. H. Anderson was re-elected secretary.

A discussion of measures on the November ballot was led by George Graham, secretary of the associated farmers of Orange county; W. F. Henley, and C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

Harry W. Pierce, manager of the Anaheim Cooperative Orange association, will speak on proposition No. 1, the labor initiative, and Mrs. S. W. Stanley of Tustin will discuss other propositions.

A Spanish program of music and dancing will be presented by Rosemary Ramm and Marharet Palm, President J. A. Baker said. Officers for the coming year will be nominated.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET IN C. M. AND LAGUNA

Democrats of Orange county have scheduled two important meetings for this week night.

One meeting is to be held at Costa Mesa grammar school and the other will be held in the grammar school at Laguna Beach. Congressman Harry Sheppard will speak at both meetings. In addition to Sheppard the Costa Mesa Democrats will hear Leon Berger of Los Angeles, who will talk on behalf of the entire list of Democratic candidates, including Senator Culbert L. Olson, candidate for governor; Ellis E. Patterson, candidate for lieutenant-governor, and Sheridan Downey, Democratic nominee for United States senator.

Berger is prominent in Los Angeles as an attorney and is well known in Democratic circles. He is a member of the state Democratic central committee speakers' bureau.

J. Frank Burke, former Santa Ana newspaper publisher and also well known as the "Editor of the Air," will be the principal speaker at the Laguna Beach meeting.

Next meeting of the section will be Nov. 14 in Willard Junior High school, Santa Ana.

Garden Group of Costa Mesa Meets

COSTA MESA.—Members of the Women's Garden group met Friday in the clubhouse, at which time Mrs. R. S. Erbe and Mrs. H. H. Thayer were tea hostesses.

A paper on "Flowers for October Planting" was read by Mrs. Merwin J. Fickas.

Next meeting of the section will be Nov. 14 in Willard Junior High school, Santa Ana.

Theodore (Teddy) Raynor, her Aunt Elsie, and Hugo Albright sign up for a cruise on the motor yacht, the Golden Gull, though they are warned by Denis Galsgan, another prospective passenger, that there is danger. Hugo says that Teddy's and Galsgan's late fathers once headed a secret society, the Order of the Golden Gull, of which he was a member, and he believes there is a menacing connection between this and the cruise. Nevertheless, they sail. Other passengers are Dr. Smitting, who is in charge; the beautiful Charis Winslow; Cecil Stoddard, a wealthy playboy; John Carper, millionaire; Mrs. Marvis, authoress; Roy Parrin, ex-acrobat; and Professor Turner. The first day out, the stewardess, Marie Galgan, tells Teddy secret information for $5,000, but Teddy turns it down. The next morning, Marie, meeting her in the corridor, slips a note into her hand.

CHAPTER XVII TEDDY, hurrying into her cabin, was relieved to find that her aunt was gone. She carefully closed and locked the door.

Not until then, did she examine the folded bit of paper that Marie Galgan had slipped into her hand. She opened it and read the scrawled note:

Meet me at 10 p. m. tonight beside lifeboat No. 3. Tell no one. Danger for both you and me if you do. Burn this.

Earlier, there had been a moon, but clouds now blacked it out and, as Teddy stood there, waiting, her nervousness increased. It suddenly occurred to her that alone here in the darkness, she should be quite defenseless if anyone wanted to take her by surprise.

Suppose that note from the stewardess was a trap of some sort? Suppose for instance, that some one should creep up on her, and, in the darkness, throw a malapoutry throw her overboard. All sorts of wild possibilities flashed through her mind. She gave way to momentary panic, and almost rushed back down to the lounge to Hugo.

Then, with an effort, she controlled her nerves. After all, what reason could any one have for harming her? She wished, though, that she at least had a weapon of some sort.

The minutes passed, and still there was no sign of Marie Galgan. Teddy glanced at the illuminated dial of her wrist watch. It was ten past ten. Where was the woman? Could something have happened to prevent her from coming?

Teddy had just about decided to wait no longer, when she heard cautious footsteps approaching. At last! She drew a deep breath, her heart pounding.

Then, the footsteps ceased on the other side of the lifeboat, and Teddy was surprised to get a whiff of cigarette smoke. Surely the stewardess wouldn't be smoking when she came to meet her. It must be some one else. Who?

SHE was about to peep around the lifeboat when she heard the person move away. She stepped out from behind her shelter just in time to catch sight of a woman starting down the ladder to the lower deck. It was too large a woman to be Marie Galgan.

Then, Teddy saw that it was Mrs. Marvis. Now, why had she come up here? Teddy in her present frame of mind was ready to seek hidden reasons for everything. Of course the widow might simply be taken a stroll, but her footsteps had somehow sounded so cautious. Had she, too, come up here to meet some one?

Teddy waited another five minutes, then gave up her vigil. She wasn't going to wait here all night for the stewardess!

As she went down the ladder, she saw Mrs. Marvis standing near the foot of it. The writer was looking at her sharply with a strange expression on her face.

Audience New Devices Make 1939 Cars Easier and Safer to Operate

By DONALD BUTTON
An Elzio Pinza who sang to, not for, his audience took musical Orange county by emotional storm last night in the opening event of the Orange County Concert course at Santa Ana High school auditorium.

Holding his audience from the first sonorous notes of Mozart's "Qui Sedeno Non S'accende" to the final of the Verdi aria "Il Lacerato Spirito" the world-famed baritone was greeted at the conclusion of every number and generous encore with the thunderous applause of an enthusiastic audience.

Effortless, daring, technically flawless, Pinza gave us Mozart, Handel, Beethoven, Monteverdi, Scarlatti, and Verdi and conquered in what should be regarded as "the" musical conquest of Orange county.

No other, certainly none so famous, singer, however, walked straight into the hearts of Orange county to win the approval last night's audience indicated with its plaudits. Perhaps none other had ever tried singing as honest, as restrained, as sincere as that which is Pinza's.

He achieved a real triumph in his interpretation of the Robert MacGinsey spiritual "Trouble," free from the affectations characteristic of most "spiritualists."

A lyricism, never dormant, broke into open song in the lovely "Florence Never" by Clara.

Pinza without a peer! Last night's concert, unassuming as it was, conclusively proved it!

The orchestral quality of Fritz Kitzinger's piano was a setting worthy of the jewel "our" Pinza concert proved to be!

HAIGHT HELD OUT OF RACE
LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Raymond Haight, Progressive candidate for governor, has decided to abandon his campaign because of lack of funds, the Los Angeles Examiner says today.

Haight, the paper said, will release his followers from their promises to vote for him, in a radio address (CBS at 7:45 o'clock) tonight.

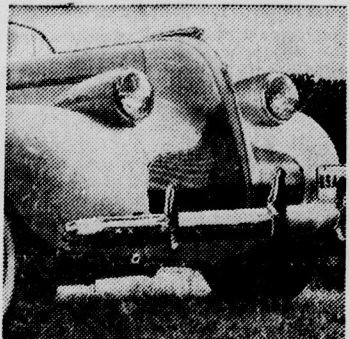

"I have had offers of financial support," the paper said, "but I am not taking it. I would not want to be saying, 'but it meant definite commitments, and I've always said that unless I could be governor free of obligations I did not want the job.'"

The paper said it was "authoritatively" learned from another source that Haight would not throw his support either to Frank F. Merriam, Republican incumbent, or Culbert L. Olson, Democratic nominee.

HIGHLIGHTS
Journal's Newsreel
NOW SHOWING AT THE Broadway

Front ends look broader; radiator grilles are lower.

Gear shift on steering column; same arc as wheel.

Headlights sunk in fenders; hood locks on dashboard.

The 1939 automobile will make its debut soon at the auto shows. New York's opens Nov. 11. Here is a preview.

By DAVID J. WILKIE
DETROIT. (AP)—You may have heard that because the motor-car industry did not profit greatly during the 1938 season, new model changes would be relatively few this fall. You were misinformed.

The 1939 model motorcar now making its appearance has just about everything the most exacting motorist could expect. One of the outstanding mechanical advances incorporated in many new cars is the removal of the gear shift lever from the center of the front floor board to the steering wheel column. This makes for comfort in driving and, added to the trend toward wider bodies, means much in increased roominess. On some models the elimination of running boards is optional.

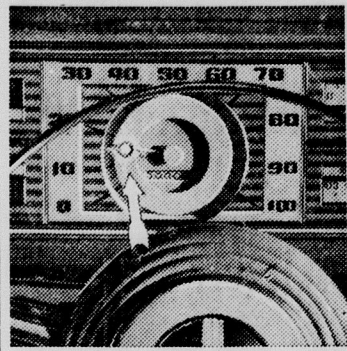

A BROAD BEAM APPEARANCE
Aside from narrowed or entirely eliminated running boards, body lines back of the hood have not been materially altered. The front, however, is decidedly different. Lowered radiator grilles, that in some instances extend across into wider sweeping fenders, give the front end a much broader appearance. This effect is enhanced in some cars by head lamps that are sunk in the fenders.

There are gadgets galore. There is an illuminated turn indicator, operated from a small lever below the steering wheel; there is a series of colored lights to warn the driver of his speed of operation, controlled by the speedometer; there is greater use of plastics, some makers trying them on radiator grilles and molding as well as on steering wheels and instrument panel buttons.

CHASSES STILL LOWER

With the tendency always to lower lowered chasses, the manufacturers have had to deal again with the problem of eliminating the hump between clutch and differential. To do this some makers have tilted the power plant at an angle that requires a "double-jointed" assembly in the transmission of power to the rear wheels. At the same time the complicated clutch assembly has been simplified, with about a third as many parts.

Coil springs are coming in for greater adaptation. Concealed door hinges are favored by many more producers. The "bigger-and-better" motif seems to have been the objective throughout. There will be some really "new" models in the season's introductions. Three or four producers are bringing out what they call "economy sixes," to bid for business in the lower price field. Ford has completed a new deluxe model that will compete in a price class slightly higher than the standard line. Thus greater competitive activity throughout the industry is indicated for the coming season.

SHERIFF HITS AT LUCIO IN RADIO SPEECH

Lucas Lucio, Mexican consul's representative here, wants to control the sheriff's and district attorney's offices.

That charge was made last night in a radio speech by Sheriff Logan Jackson, campaigning for reelection, in which he lashed at Lucio, Attorney Maxwell Burke and "communist agitators."

Jackson called Burke Lucio's "chief advisor" in reviewing the 1936 citrus strike. "Most of these rioters," asserted Jackson, "were not even American citizens and the attack amounted to an armed invasion. I did what any honest sheriff would have done. I met violence with force and suppressed the riot. We arrested 116 Mexicans and took them to jail. . . . We did not, of course, get the directing heads of the rioters because the agitators are not out on the fighting front. They stay in some safe place while their misguided dupes do the fighting. We did not, of course, get Lucas Lucio, the Orange county generalissimo of the Mexican army, or his chief advisor, Attorney Maxwell Burke. They were not on the 'fighting front.'"

What offices in the county do you think Lucio is concerned with controlling? . . . He wants Esteban Muniz, (leader in the 1936 strike) to help elect the sheriff and the district attorney, two offices that interfere with Mr. Lucio's plans for the future. . . . He did not get Mr. Burke (Burke ran in the primary for district attorney). . . . Who does he want for sheriff? . . . He didn't want me, of course. Did he want Mr. Pearson? He did not. Jim Pearson was not the kind of sheriff he could use. Who did he want? Well, he wanted Jesse Elliott.

Lucio and Muniz and Velarde and their gang could use a sheriff who would turn his back. . . . That is exactly what Elliott told a radical group in Santa Ana. . . . Jesse Elliott told his radical admirers that he could turn his back. . . . I will not turn my back. . . . I cannot work in public office with N. E. West or with Floyd Howard or Maxwell Burke. They have a different idea of public responsibility than I have. . . . I have no personal animus toward Jesse Elliott. I think he is in bad company. . . .

'I'm Bootlegger,' Officers Informed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Liquor board inspectors admired the frankness of a man they arrested for hauling a truckload of beer into dry territory. When stopped on the highway and asked if he had a manifest covering the beer he simply said: "No. I'm just a bootlegger."

Council Briefs

A request from Loren W. Smith, 1501 West Ninth street, that something be done to stop speeding in the dangerous intersection of Seventh and Pacific streets was referred by the council to the traffic safety commission for study and report.

The city voted to enter into an agreement with R. C. Roper for the installation of an electric sign at 1705 North Main street. The standard agreement provides Roper will move the sign if the street should ever be widened at that point.

Application of A. Bartelson of the Bartelson-Poplar company for the establishment of a used car lot at 2400 North Main street was referred to the planning commission.

After a joint hearing with the planning commission, the council approved the application of N. E. Maynard for special use permit for construction of a duplex on the northeast corner of Parton and Highland. Application of Alta E. Marshall to erect a duplex at McFadden and Cypress was also granted.

Matilda McQuaid's application for erection of a duplex on Grand street between Washington and Nineteenth was referred to the planning commission, which recommended that the property be posted and date set for public hearing, which will be Nov. 7.

Insurance on the city's fleet of automobiles was awarded to the General Insurance company, represented by E. M. Sundquist, after a total of four bids were received. Sundquist's bid of $2395 was the lowest.

A petition bearing nine signatures and asking that street lights be installed along Franklin street was referred to the street commissioner and city engineer with power to act.

WIFE SLAYING LAID TO LOVE

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—He loved his wife too much to go on without her, so he killed her when they met at a lawyer's office to discuss her plans for a divorce. . . .

Detective Lieut. Joe Filkas said today this explanation of the slaying of Edith Crain, 40, was scribbled on a piece of paper by John, her husband, who had shot himself in the throat. Crain, an oil well driller, was held for superior court trial on a murder charge after Filkas testified at his preliminary hearing.

COUNTY'S 4-H CLUB LEADERS WILL GATHER

Leaders of Orange county's 4-H clubs today were completing plans for the annual achievement program to be held at the Orange intermediate school Saturday evening.

More than 200 4-H boys and girls throughout the county will be awarded achievement pins for their successful completion of the year's projects. The pins will be presented by Frank Was of Santa Ana, representing the California Bankers' association.

The Costa Mesa Aggies club, under the leadership of Ira Hartshorn, will present a demonstration team which will portray some of the values of 4-H club work.

Prof. Woodbridge Metcalf, extension forester of the University of California, will be present to award charters and seals to clubs which have made high scores during the year. Professor Metcalf is well known to club members throughout the state.

Leonard Halderman and C. J. Marks, president and executive of the Orange County Farm Bureau, will take part in the program by presenting certificates of merit to outstanding club members and leaders.

Police News

A pumphouse belonging to Henry Boose, and located on Fifteenth street between Bristol and English, burned to the ground last night. The fire department reported today. Damage was not estimated.

No one was hurt yesterday when automobiles driven by Fred W. Wendorf, 605 South Sycamore, and Evelyn J. Brown, 1219 West Highland, collided at Third and Sycamore.

An automobile driven by Lloyd Swanson, 1807 North Main street, was involved in a collision yesterday with a car owned by H. T. Foust of Santa Ana, according to Santa Ana police. No one was hurt, but both cars were damaged.

Lloyd Dow of Anaheim was arrested yesterday on a charge of non-support of a minor child. The warrant was issued by Santa Ana justice court.

DURBAN, Natal, South Africa. (AP)—A mass meeting of 2000 persons headed by Mayor Fleming Johnston of Durban today pledged tremendous resistance to any effort to return to Germany war-lost Tanganyika territory.

Council Votes New Franchise for Southern California Edison Co.

OFFICIALS TO STUDY RATES CHARGED HERE

The Southern California Edison company received a new franchise in Santa Ana today, giving the company the right to use the public streets for its business over an indeterminate number of years. The city council passed the franchise ordinance last night over the opposition of Councilmen Ernest H. Layton and William Penn.

The dissenters urged that final adoption be delayed for two weeks as requested by the Santa Ana Realty board, which is making a study of the electric rates. RATES DISCUSSED

The ordinance was adopted by a 3 to 2 vote after Councilman Plummer Bruns pointed out that the new franchise has no connection with the matter of electric rates in which the Realty board is interested. He said rates are set by the state railway commission.

The franchise, he said, merely covers payment to the city for the use of the streets. Attorneys for the Edison company explained that the attempt to secure a two-week delay was based on "entirely extraneous issues," and said the Realty board apparently wanted to use the franchise as a "whip" to bargain with the Edison company over rates.

CITY TO COLLECT
Emphasizing that there is no connection between the franchise and electric rates, the council approved a suggestion by Mayor Fred Rowland that councilmen make an informal study of electric rates in Santa Ana and other cities.

The new franchise is for an indeterminate number of years. Officials said it will increase the amount of the yearly franchise payments to the city. Furthermore it was asserted, city officials will be able to check more easily franchise payments because the payment is based upon two per cent of the gross returns in the city.

The payment under the old franchise was based upon a complicated computation which was almost impossible to check for accuracy, it was explained.

This new type franchise is made possible by the 1927 franchise act sponsored by the California State League of Municipalities. Chief benefit to the utility, it was explained, is that there is no worry about the franchise expiring, which has its effect on the sale of bonds. The new franchise does not prevent the city from launching a municipal system.

An unusually large audience was present for the council meeting last night. Edison company employees were headed by Rodney Bacon, local manager.

No representatives of the Realty board were present, having presented its request for postponement of action by letter. Councilmen also pointed out that the first reading was held last week and that no one appeared to protest.

Comment Layton and Penn said they were in favor of the delay as requested by the Realty board.

'BORROWERS' OF TRUCK HELD

Two Santa Ana youths, one 16 and the other 14 years of age, were arrested yesterday for driving a truck to Long Beach without permission of the owner.

Police said the boys admitted driving the truck to Long Beach and abandoning it on the streets, besides admitting they "borrowed" a sedan from the same person on two other occasions without his permission.

The truck belonged to Carl Bayha of 413½ West Fourth street.

The youths, one of them a student at Willard Junior High school, were taken to the juvenile home and their parents notified.

J. C. Swing Band Plays at Dance

Santa Ana Junior college's student swing band will make its debut at an after-game dance to be held following the Pomona-Dons football game here Friday night.

Rehearsals are being held each Thursday evening in the music bungalow under Student Director Del Taylor. He is assisted by Bob Baines, another student, who was instrumental in organizing the band.

Council Delays Action on Civil Service Board's Move To Oust Policeman Holmes

The city council last night delayed action on the recommendation of the Santa Ana civil service commission that Police Officer H. E. Holmes be discharged from the classified civil service and the police department.

Postponing final action until Holmes is given an opportunity to appear, the council voted to notify Holmes that action will be taken on the recommendation at the next regular meeting of the council, and that he may appear.

Although City Attorney L. W. Blodgett said there was no provision in the ordinance for notifying the defendant, the council agreed with Councilman Joe Smith that taking action without Holmes being notified would be unjust.

Attorney Blodgett explained that the council can review only the extent of the punishment, not the evidence presented in the civil service hearing. Holmes has been suspended from the department by Police Chief Floyd Howard for allegedly standing by and failing to protect his wife from assault and battery by Mrs. Gladys Durham.

After a two-week study of the evidence, the civil service commission yesterday recommended Holmes' dismissal.

Final action will be taken by the council Nov. 7. A motion by Councilman Plummer Bruns that the council concur in the recommendation of the civil service commission was dropped.

Damage Claim Before City

Declaring that seepage of sewage water from the Santa Ana river damaged their land to the extent of $8500, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Grist, 919 South Ross street, laid a damage claim before the city council last night.

Claims are being laid before each of the members of the joint outfall sewer system. The council referred the claim to City Attorney L. W. Blodgett and City Engineer J. L. McBride for investigation and report.

No Tax Money for Bridge

Santa Ana will pay no tax money into the construction of the new bridge over Santa Ana boulevard, now being planned by the state department of public works.

The one-fourth cent gas tax funds received by the city from the state will be re-allocated, however, to apply to the new bridge rather than on local streets and highways of major importance.

The city council last night authorized the city to execute an agreement with the state, re-allocating the state gas tax funds.

The bridge has been closed to traffic since it was damaged by the March 3 flood.

Being outside Santa Ana, it will be a state project. The state department of public works has made application for a WPA project, and work is expected to begin as soon as the project is approved.

Phone Co. Pays City $5331

The Southern California Telephone company made its yearly franchise payment to the city last night, the amount totaling $5331.34.

The payment is based upon two per cent of the local gross receipts of the company from Oct. 13, 1937 to Oct. 12, 1938.

The council authorized City Clerk Ed Vegoey to cash the check, and referred the amount of the payment to the city auditor for checking.

EMPLOYERS OF STATE LISTED

As a result of a drive to complete registration of every California employer, the state department of employment is receiving more than 800 employer registration forms daily.

That was the information received here today by Roy Ferguson, manager of the department office here, who said employers in Orange county are cooperating in the drive by mailing in the registration forms.

Mailing of 160,000 forms to employers throughout the state will be completed tomorrow, Ferguson said, and after Oct. 25 extended field investigations will be started to complete the registration work, in the event there still remain employers who have failed to register.

The California Unemployment Reserves Act requires every employer to register with the department.

304 PETITION FOR RETENTION HANDBILL LAW

Santa Ana businessmen were apparently divided today over attempts to repeal or change the city handbill ordinance.

The city council, with one petition already on its hands demanding repeal of the handbill measure, last night received an equally emphatic petition opposing repeal of the ordinance. There were 304 signatures of businessmen and taxpayers to the second petition.

A letter from Robert N. Hockaday, local businessman, inferentially criticized J. C. Metzgar, leader of the repeal movement for switching sides on the handbill question. Hockaday pointed out that Metzgar worked "with the group whom I represented in the drafting and promotion of the present ordinance, and apparently now in the employ of a different group."

Hockaday declared he believed the majority of businessmen in Santa Ana were in favor of the existing ordinance.

After the letter was read, J. C. Metzgar addressed the council, declaring that he felt it was right to change his mind when he realized that he had made a mistake in advocating the present ordinance.

He said the increase in local postal receipts was due to the handbill ordinance, which prohibits the free distribution of handbills and circulars. He said this is evidence that money for distribution of advertising is going out of Santa Ana through the post-office.

Another petition was presented, bearing the signatures of 12 persons who said they were parents of carrier boys now out of work because of the present ordinance. The petition asked that the ordinance be modified to "put our boys back to work again."

Hockaday in his letter had also maintained that the distributing organizations were from out of town, hiring cheap labor from outside Santa Ana.

On the labor question, Mayor Rowland commented that nine extra mail carriers had been given the full-time work at the postoffice because handbills and circulars must go through the mail.

One of the businessmen appearing before the council to urge repeal or modification of the ordinance was D. F. Washburn of Montecito, who had been given the full-time work at the postoffice because handbills and circulars must go through the mail.

The council decided to consider the problem between now and the next meeting Nov. 7.

POWER RATES DEFENDED

Santa Ana's electric rates are not out of proportion with rates in other cities of the same class.

Such was the declaration today by Edison company officials after conferring with a committee from the Santa Ana Realty board which had maintained that rates in Santa Ana are too high and greatly out of line with the prevailing rate in California cities.

Rodney Bacon, Edison company manager, pointed out that the rates for Class B cities, including Santa Ana, San Bernardino and others in Southern California, were the same.

Ex-Czech Leader Accepts U. S. Offer

CHICAGO. (AP)—President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago announced today Eduard Benes, former president of Czechoslovakia, had accepted an invitation to become a visiting professor at the university.

Benes, who resigned after the recent four-power conference in Munich, will lecture at the University of Chicago under the Wargreen Foundation which provided for study of American institutions.

Harriman Lottery Plan Held Illegal

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP)—The New Mexico supreme court today spiked the last hopes of Mrs. Oliver Harriman, New York lottery advocate and philanthropist, for a million dollar state lottery for the crippled children's hospital at Hot Springs, N. M.

The court's decision outlawing the proposal was unanimous, upholding a district court ruling that it was illegal and of a scope not contemplated by the state constitution permitting benefit lotteries by charitable organizations.

HOOVER SAYS PRESIDENT HAS POWER LUST

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Herbert Hoover appealed today for the "emancipation" of congress from the "personal domination" of President Roosevelt, whom he accused of "steadily driving for more and more power over the daily lives of the people."

The former president, recommending trial of a "stop, look and listen" policy for the next two years, urged American voters to elect "independent-minded men" to congress to halt experiments "with the American way of life" by the New Deal and "its yes-yes men" which he said had been carried on "at dreadful cost in human misery and despair."

Delivering his only eastern speech of the congressional campaign before a cheering, applauding audience of 3500 here last night, Hoover charged that among "sinister aggressions of personal power in this republic" was an attempt by the President "to control elections."

The Republican chieftain accused Mr. Roosevelt of massing a "praetorian army of political appointees to purge those men of his own party who have shown sparks of manhood, of independence, and obedience to their oaths."

This, he said, "goes to the very core of the right of the people to choose their own representatives. It goes to the whole question of the independence of the ballot itself. It goes to the foundation of personal power in this republic."

Warning that "subversion in legislative halls is the spot where liberty and political morals commit suicide," Hoover asserted that "if freedom is to reign on this continent the American people have to attend to it themselves."

"Never before in all American history has there been a greater need for the people to protect themselves," he said.

"And it is in the power of the people to do it now. They alone can make congress the sword and buckler of their liberties."

The former president, who will stay in Connecticut until tomorrow morning for a round of conferences with Republican leaders, announced he would discuss the "economic consequences" of the New Deal in his third and final campaign speech at Spokane, Wash., on Nov. 5, three days before the election.

PENSIONER FOUND DEAD

Apparently stricken with a heart attack between 8 and 8 a. m. today, George K. Conrad, 67-year-old old-age pensioner, was found dead in his one-room garage dwelling on Harbor boulevard, near Fifth street.

Eddie Underwood, a neighbor, said Conrad had been suffering from heart trouble, but said he saw him alive at 6 o'clock this morning. Mrs. F. P. Oyara, route 3, Santa Ana, found the elderly man dead about 8 a. m.

Deputy Coroner J. B. Castex said death was due to a heart attack, and ordered the body removed to the Winbigler mortuary. There will be no inquest.

New Classes Added To Adult School

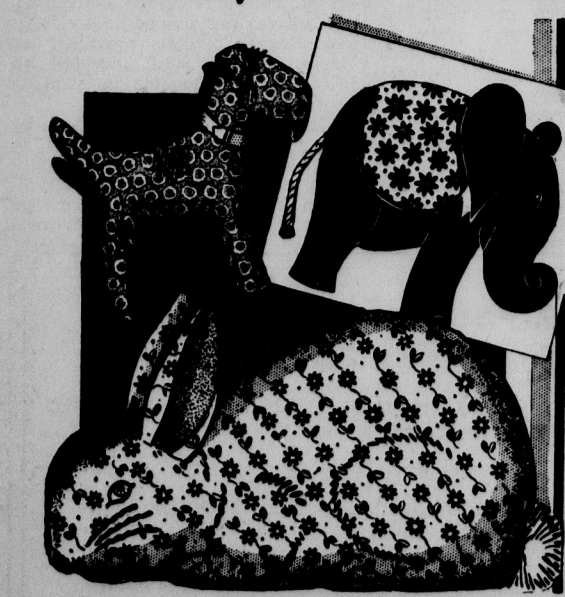

Another class was added to the growing curriculum of the Santa Ana adult education department today.

Mrs. Golden Weston, director of adult education, announced the opening of a class in dramatics at the Lathrop school tomorrow. Instructor will be Julia C. Layman, who holds a master's degree from the University of Southern California.

The major emphasis will be upon the production of plays and skits so that every member of the class may have an opportunity to participate.

In a Y. W. C. A. study of the wages of 680 working girls, only 15 were free to spend their money as they chose. The rest contributed to the support of their families. The average weekly wage was $18.46.

Maurice Costello, Headliner On Stage 30 Years Ago, Gets First Featured Talkie Role

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Sixty-one-year-old Maurice Costello, a headline stage name 30 years ago, went to work today—playing his first featured role in a talking picture.

"I'm trying to get in the back door," Costello said. "I simply had to have a job, and told my friends so. I don't want to be dependent on others."

"A couple of years ago they used a flash of me in Hollywood Boulevard." Just wanted the use of my name. A week or two ago I got a Guild card (Screen Actors Guild) and was listed at Central Casting. (All movie extras are hired through Central.)

"Whether I get anywhere or not, this is better than sitting around my room all day."

Costello's first call after he was listed was for a little part in a one-reeler, "Nuts and Bolts." Director W. S. Van Dyke saw him on the M-G-M. lot and gave him the role in "Stand Up and Fight." It's a "speaking part," which means $25 a day, and is good for three days.

Last May Costello sued his actress daughter, Dolores Barrymore, for non-support. He demanded $200 a month, declaring he was "sick, broke and jobless."

In answering the action, Dolores said she was no longer able to support her father because of her obligations to her children (a son and a daughter, born when she was married to John Barrymore) and her sister, Helene, who is ill.

As a once wealthy Southern aristocrat who sees his home being auctioned in "Stand Up and Fight," Costello's part is that of a man who has lost his friends.

"Don't let that happen to you in real life," he said, talking to no one in particular. "Hang onto your money. And your friends."

NEW TRIAL IN ZONING LAW SUIT SOUGHT

H. C. Wahlberg, Santa Ana insurance man, and Contractor Nyllyn P. Hurd today prepared to fight for a new trial in an injunction suit brought against them by Leslie H. Eckel, chief deputy county auditor.

Eckel won a decision from Superior Judge V. N. Thompson of Imperial county, who heard trial of the case here, preventing Wahlberg and Hurd from proceeding with construction of the new Wahlberg home on North Freeman street, which would have reached within three feet of Eckel's property line.

Wahlberg contended the zoning restrictions invoked by Eckel had been violated by several property owners—including Eckel himself. His attorneys, R. M. Crookshank and R. C. Mize, will argue the motion for new trial Friday before Judge Thompson. Lew Blodgett and Thomas Kuchel represent Eckel.

Endurance Record Set by Fliers

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—Russell Morris and Robert McDaniels, 24-year-old aviators who flew 130 hours for a new unofficial world's endurance record for light airplanes, went back to their job of running the airport here today while this city planned a celebration in their honor.

They landed their tiny 40-horsepower cabin monoplane here about 5 p. m. yesterday. They had been in the air 24 hours longer than Merrill Phoenix and Harold Allen, who set the old record last month at Syracuse, N. Y.

BIG GAIN IN FHA BUSINESS SHOWN IN S. A.

More than twice as many home building mortgages were accepted by the FHA for the city of Santa Ana in the third quarter of this year as during the first three months, it was revealed today by W. G. Bingham, director of the FHA for Southern California.

The second quarter of the year, which was the peak throughout Southern California, showed four times as many mortgages as the first.

From Jan. 2 to March 31, 11 mortgages were accepted by the federal institution here, totaling $36,400. In the second quarter from April 1 to June 30, 44 mortgages were accepted for a total value of $185,500; and in the third quarter, ending Sept. 30, there were 28 mortgages totaling $100,700.

These figures raised to more than $1,000,000 Santa Ana's accumulated volume of FHA mortgages. For new construction 178 were accepted for a total of $719,340, and for existing construction the total was 105 mortgages for $345,240, making a total of 283 mortgages for $1,064,580.

FHA insured loans were responsible for 66 per cent of the 42 building permits for new construction permits here in the third quarter, Bingham said.

DRY WINE MEN WIN POINT IN PRORATE FIGHT

SANTA ROSA, (AP)—California's grape prorate program designed to keep a $400,000 grape, wine and raisin industry from a price collapse was confused today by a Sonoma county court ruling which held the program was drawn up in a manner which disregarded law.

Superior Judges Hilliard Comstock and Donald Gary of Sonoma county after a hearing last night declared inoperative at least temporarily enforcement of the prorate program as it applied to the country's dry wine grape growers.

Immediately, Charles Demeo of counsel for the Sonoma Dry Wine Grape Growers association, predicted the ruling had effectively upset the entire California prorate program by putting its legality in doubt. He asserted RFC and bank loans to bolster the program probably would be withheld until legal questions finally are settled. This, he said, would be too late to salvage the program this year even though the program finally should be declared legal.

The judges sitting en banc ruled the prorate program was invalid in that notices of its formation were posted in cities and not in rural areas; that the program was drawn by the California prorate commission and not by committees of growers appointed for that purpose, and that no hearing was held on the program itself in the form it finally went into effect.

The judges upheld a temporary injunction granted the growers association against enforcement of the program as it applied to its members and continued the injunction in effect until the issues are decided at a formal trial of the growers' suit against the California prorate commission.

The court also dissolved temporary injunctions previously granted the commission against Frank Nervo and Giuseppe Mazzoni, Sonoma county growers and vintners. These injunctions had restrained them from crushing grapes until they complied with provisions of the prorate program.

The judges overruled the prorate commission's argument that growers by voting for a prorate had approved restrictions and that the form they took was immaterial in other counties where rural.

Last night's ruling had been rebelling groups have suits filed contesting the prorate program.

Guest Violinist

Gloria Chiappinelli, 14-year-old violinist, will be guest soloist of the Federal Symphony orchestra concert Thursday evening in the high school auditorium. She is shown with her valuable Gabriello violin, presented by San Diego admirers in 1934.

BUILDING, LOAN OFFICIALS TO GATHER HERE

Building and loan association officials from 13 neighboring cities will meet here Thursday for a fall conference, it was announced today by the California Savings and Building-Loan league.

Representatives from Anaheim, Laguna Beach, La Habra, Orange, Bellflower, Huntington Park, Wilmington, Fullerton, Newport Beach, Pico, Long Beach, San Pedro and Compton will gather here in the fourth of 12 conference meetings scheduled to be held in key cities of the state.

Henry L. Parry of Fullerton, director of the league, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting here.

Speakers who will take a prominent part in the Southern California conference include Phil Thompson, secretary-manager of the Coast Mutual Building-Loan association of Los Angeles; G. Vander Ende, Berkeley, president of the league; E. Page Hubble, vice-president of the Home-Builders Loan association of Pomona; F. C. Noon, secretary of the Federal Home Loan bank of Los Angeles; L. A. Gregory, president of the Long Beach Federal Savings and Loan association, and Lloyd I. Tilton, president of the Santa Barbara Mutual Building and Loan association.

Topics to be presented are loan operations, obtaining new funds and loan returns, return to investors and collections. The meetings, Parry said today, are being called throughout the state to coordinate constructive thought and actions to the betterment of the savings and building-loan institutions and their customers through a more complete understanding of individual problems.

Liquor Tax Divided
SACRAMENTO, (AP)—The state board of equalization announced today the distribution of $1,998,135 to cities and counties as their share of liquor license fees for the first six months of 1938.

The Labor Situation In Orange County

A Radio Talk by

Logan Jackson, Sheriff

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

During the primary campaign, a certain Mexican gentleman wrote a letter which was not intended for public circulation. It was a secret letter, but it was full of importance to the farmer because it foreshadowed the kind of thing in store for the farmer if this Mexican gentleman has his way. This letter was not addressed to the farmers, but it should have been. Believe me, the farmers are interested in its contents. This letter indicated the kind of thing that such Communist agitators as Lillian Munroe, notorious in every strike in California, plan for the farmer. It is the kind of thing that William Velarde and Estaban Muniz and Lucas Lucio plan for the farmer. Keep these names in mind for they are important in this campaign for sheriff. You need to know what these people want and what they are doing to get control of Orange county agriculture.

Let us go back a little in Orange county history and see what these people attempted in 1936. Let us see how it came about that American citizens, at the risk of their lives, had to defend their homes, their farms, their crops, and the right to use the highways, against the violence of these reckless agitators.

In the spring of 1936, Lillian Munroe, Velarde and Muniz served a list of demands on the packing houses. Chief among these demands was recognition of the Mexican union with the provision that the racketeers should say who could and could not work in the orchards. These labor agitators were to relieve the farmers of the trouble of running their own business.

The farmers, as might be expected, stood up manfully and said THEY WOULD run their own business without the dictation of Lillian Munroe, or Velarde or of Muniz. Or even of Lucio or of Maxwell Burke, his chief advisor.

What then? Lucio and his gang called the strike, took the Mexican pickers out of the orchards and told the farmer that his crop would rot on the trees.

The farmer had another idea. He arranged to have his fruit picked. But Lucio said, "No, that is not the idea. The fruit is to stay in the orchards. I have arranged it that way."

So the Velarde-Lucio general staff sent their Mexican dupes out armed with guns and clubs to clear the men who wanted to work. There were several hundred of these misguided Mexicans and they stormed through the orchards, beating and terrorizing everyone they encountered. They assaulted American citizens who were attempting to protect their property.

Most of these rioters were not even American citizens and the attack amounted to an armed invasion. I did what any honest sheriff would have done. I met violence with force and suppressed the riot.

We arrested 116 Mexicans and took them to jail. We had the ringleaders and we had no more violence from that source.

We did not, of course, get the directing hands of the rioters because the agitators are not out on the fighting front. They stay in some safe place while their misguided dupes do the fighting. We did not, of course, get Lucas Lucio, the Orange county generalissimo of the Mexican army, or his chief advisor, Attorney Maxwell Burke. They were not at the fighting front.

Now these people, this Lucio, this Mr. Maxwell Burke, this Velarde and Muniz, by no means approved the action I took in protecting the farmers in their rights. They lost that battle, but they plan to renew it under more favorable conditions.

What would be more favorable conditions for Lucio and his gang? Would control of the sheriff's office be any help to them? If they had a sheriff who would turn his back when the Mexican rioters went out to drive the pickers from the orchards, would they not be in much better position to accomplish their purpose? What do you think?

What kind of a sheriff do you think they want? Do they want me? No, not at all. Do they want Mr. Elliott?

Let us see. I have here a letter written by Mr. Lucio, Mr. Lucio active among the Mexican Communists and racketeers. It is addressed to Muniz, the Mexican agitator who served the demands on the farmers. It is dated August 5th this year, before the primary election, and it instructs Muniz on who to support for county office.

What offices in the county do you think Lucio is concerned with controlling? It is not hard to guess. He wants Muniz to help elect the sheriff and the district attorney, the two offices that interfere with Mr. Lucio's plans for the farmers. In this letter who does Mr. Lucio want for district attorney? Of course, he has only one candidate. He wants Mr. Maxwell Burke. Well that's one strike on Lucio, he did not get Mr. Burke. But who does he want for sheriff? Remember, there were four candidates for sheriff at the time. There was Mr. Pearson, there was Mr. Elliott, there was myself, and one other. Eliminate myself. He didn't want me, of course. Did he want Mr. Pearson? He did not. Jim Pearson was not the kind of sheriff he could use. Who did he want? Well, he wanted Jess Elliott.

Remember, says Mr. Lucio in this letter to Mr. Muniz, remember that Senator Elliott is the favorite of the Mexican people. Do you think that Senator Elliott can be the favorite of the Mexican agitators and the farmers at the same time?

I have said that Lucio and Muniz and Velarde and their gang could use a sheriff who would turn his back. Why do they think Jess Elliott would turn his back when they were beating and killing American citizens? Large, I suppose, because he said he could. I am not making that statement inadvertently. That is exactly what Elliott told a radical group in Santa Ana during the primary campaign. He was asked what he would do if he saw union men attempting to persuade non-union men to leave a job. Remember that these Mexicans were trying to persuade pickers crews to leave the orchards and were using guns and clubs as persuaders. Jess Elliott told his radical admirers that he could turn his back.

Let me say here and now, and with all the emphasis of which I am capable, that I will not turn my back when violence is turned against American citizens or any other citizens entitled to protection of the law. I am not that kind of a sheriff. The people of Orange county had best be sure that Jess Elliott does not have a chance to turn his back on them.

Now, what did Mr. Lucio do in the primary campaign besides write a letter for Burke and Elliott? You can be sure that he did plenty. You can be sure that he had the help of Muniz and Velarde and Lillian Munroe and of Maxwell Burke and of the Mexican consulate, which has no business in Orange county politics. You can be doubly sure by reading the returns of the Mexican precincts in this county. You can be sure that more Mexicans voted than ever voted before, and that they voted for Elliott. Look up the returns on any Mexican precinct.

Now, did Mr. Elliott accept this support passively or did he actively appreciate it. Well, he sent word to one Orange county farmer that there is no reason for concern over the Mexican labor situation. He and Lucio had reached an understanding in the matter.

Now, an understanding between Lucio and the sheriff may be an excellent solution of the Mexican problem, but as sheriff, I will never place the safety and the security of the farmers in the hands of Lucas Lucio. I do not believe that the farmers will do so. They are being offered the opportunity to do it by electing Elliott, but I do not think they will accept the offer.

Now, these may seem like hard words against Mr. Elliott, but I did not choose Mr. Elliott's associates in this campaign. I did not put the gamblers behind him, and I did not put the labor racketeers behind him, I put them against myself by the way I handled the office, but I did not put them behind Elliott, and he does not have to accept them unless he wants to.

I ask you to consider whether it is just by accident that Jess Elliott has taken up with the crowd that is supporting him in this campaign. How is it that Floyd Howard, the chief of police of Santa Ana, who is under Federal indictment in a lottery scheme, is for Jess Elliott? Why isn't he for me?

Why is it that Colonel Berry, editor of The Independent, Santa Ana's green sheet, and a boom friend of Howard and Candidate Elliott, has for more than two years devoted himself and his paper, very largely to a systematic campaign to discredit me and my office?

Surely, it isn't entirely accident that these people I have mentioned are for Elliott. Can it not be possible that birds of a feather flock together? Isn't it possible that I stand for something in a government that these people do not stand for, and which Jess Elliott does not stand for?

I think that is the reason why the Howards and the Berrys and the Lucios and the Velardes and the Munroes are unitedly against me and unitedly for Jess Elliott.

Surely the people of Orange county are not going to turn the sheriff's office over to this class of people. Are they not going to demand that Jess Elliott divorce himself from this crowd before they entrust an important office to him?

Do the people of Orange county want the safety of their persons and property entrusted to such a gang? I do not think they do.

What about my friends? Take the board of supervisors, of which N. E. West is a member. He is my political enemy. By reason of him I am harassed by suits which the district attorney and the chairman of the board have pronounced to be persecutions. Is there nothing strange about that? But the chairman of the board, Willard Smith, is my friend. He is an honest man and a just man.

Is it just an accident that Willard Smith is my friend and West my enemy?

If you had to choose between Willard Smith and N. E. West, which would you choose? And wouldn't the choice you made pretty well establish what kind of a person you were?

I cannot work in public office with N. E. West or with Floyd Howard. They have a different idea of public responsibility than I have. My associates in this campaign are different kind of people. I look to the farmers and the churches and the business people and to responsible labor and the decent people generally for my support, and I do not want any other kind. I will not accept any other kind. I do not believe that the decent people of this county are going to let me down. I think you are going to see that there can be no compromise with the Elliott crowd. You must choose one kind of government or the other. After all there are only two issues in this campaign for sheriff. One is public decency. It is the issue of whether we are to give law-breakers control of our county. It is the issue of whether the gamblers are to do as they please, or not.

The other is industrial freedom. That means the right of agriculture and lawful business to the protection of the law against labor racketeers. It means that the farmer is entitled to a free road to market. It means, if I am elected that goon squads will dump no trucks over in this county because I will not permit it. It means that the farmers shall not be forced to bow to the dictates of such people as Lucio and Velarde and Lillian Munroe.

These issues are up to the law abiding people of this county. I have no personal animus toward Jess Elliott. I think he is in bad company. Neither of us is important except as we represent principles.

These things which I have said are the truth, and I say them because it is my duty to tell the truth to the people of Orange county.

All I want is that the people of this county understand just what is involved in this campaign. I am willing to abide by the action of the people and do it cheerfully when they know what the facts are. When they know the facts, I think they will elect me. If they do not, I, at least, have done my duty as an officer and a decent citizen.

I ask you to consider these facts I have given you, and check them against your own knowledge. If you think I am right, I ask you to do something about it. You are on the side of right and decency in this campaign. You and people like you can win it, but you must work together. Vigilance is the price of liberty and of decency. Will you help me win this fight?

I shall have more to say to you next week. Thank you and good night.

(Other talks over KVOE will be made by Logan Jackson, sheriff, Monday evenings, Oct. 24th, and 31st and Thursday evening, Nov. 3rd, 6:45 to 7:00 p. m.)

COOK ASSISTS OLIVER IN OREGON-STANFORD GAME

As you probably already know, G. A. (Tex) Oliver, the former Santa Ana coaching wizard, directs his University of Oregon eleven from the press box during all the big games. A special phone is connected with the players' bench, and "Tex" sends down his orders to Bill Cook, who makes the substitutions.

When Bill Cook of our Dons went north to see Stanford's wild 27-16 victory over Oregon at Palo Alto Saturday, he sat in the press box with Oliver. "Tex" joined his team at half-time, however, and spent the rest of the game on the bench. Cook was left in charge of the phone.

Cook, who made the hurried trip to Palo Alto after his Dons had beaten Citrus 25-14 at Glendora, was very much impressed by the Oregon club's running attack, featuring brilliant blocking. He thought Oregon, even in defeat, looked as good as the Alabama eleven that outclassed U. S. C. early in the season.

FERNIE BACA RETURNS READY TO FIGHT HERE

Fernie Baca, one of the most popular fighters ever to perform at the Orange County Athletic club, is back in town.

Fernie and his brother, Sal Baca, rushed to El Paso, Texas, two months ago to the bedside of their mother, who was critically ill. She is greatly improved now.

Promoter M. J. (Bud) Levin and Matchmaker Frankie Lockhart drove through to Texas to bring back Fernie, who is scheduled to fight here next Monday night—probably against Steve Stanrock of Los Angeles.

Fernie will weigh in around 135, Stanrock at 138. . . . Sal Baca, who is nursing an injured right hand, will be unable to fight here for a few weeks.

REACHING DEEP DOWN INTO SPORTS BARREL

Mac Beall, University of Idaho's ace halfback, who played for the football for Santa Ana Jaycee's '36 and '37 champion, will be seen in action when Coach Ted Bank's Vandals battle U. C. L. A. in the Coliseum Saturday afternoon.

Although Idaho is known as the Pacific Coast conference's "half brother" because it is not included in the round-robin schedule, the undefeated Vandals are a well-fluffed member of the Pacific Coast conference and are eligible for Rose Bowl consideration. . . . Coach Bank regards the U. C. L. A. game as his biggest hurdle of the season.

The University of Arkansas has linemen weighing 250 pounds each and ends some six feet six inches tall. . . . The Razorbacks' "beef" powerful Santa Clarans in one of trust" will meet Buck Shaw's, the Pacific coast's main attractions in San Francisco Saturday.

Dons May Employ Valentine at Halfback

POMONA GUNS FOR UPSET HERE FRIDAY

In an effort to strengthen his backfield, Coach Bill Cook indicated today he would shift Les Valentine from end to halfback to alternate with "Chuck" Stafford. Valentine may be seen in the new role when Santa Ana Jaycee's Dons engage Pomona in their second Eastern conference game here Friday night.

Now that Co-Capt. Johnny Joseph has returned to the end position where he gained all-conference recognition last fall, the Dons believe they can use Valentine to more advantage at halfback.

Coaches Cook and John Ward face the task of firing up their squad for Pomona, which will come here smarting under successive defeats by Fullerton (19-13) and San Bernardino (6-0), and will be in a position to spring an upset. Pomona has one of the fastest backfields in the Eastern conference.

Vic Lindskog showed up well at halfback against Citrus, and will be given a thorough trial this week. Warren (Whitey) Mann and Lawson Taylor also are showing improvement.

Co-Capt. Larry Timken, fullback, and Earl Horton, scrappy running guard, are nursing minor injuries, but should be ready for the Pomona fray. Quarterback Lynn Arnett, on account of weak ankles, is still a doubtful starter, although Don Borden and Larry Monroy will be ready to carry the burden against the Cossacks. Sam Henderson also is showing improvement in the backfield.

SAINT SOPHS BATTLE RIVERSIDE THURSDAY

Coach E. (Pinky) Greene was rounding his Santa Ana High school sophomore football team into shape today, preparatory to meeting the Riverside sophomores in the opening Citrus Belt league season here Thursday afternoon on Clayton field.

The Saint mentor has been working with about four different teams, and has been experimenting with various combinations.

Thus far the team lines up as follows: Wallace Amling and Albert Hutter, ends; Don Lieberman and Vergil Crenshaw, tackles; Joseph Murphy and Paul Higashi, guards, and Cecil Herren, center. The backfield probably will be composed of Richard Roehm, quarter; Ray Shoemaker and Bill Guiley, halfbacks, and Alan Haddell, fullback.

Film Star Golfer Plays 156 Holes

CORONA. (AP)—Add marathon golfers: Film Actress Lona Andre, 21, claimed a woman's record today after she toured 156 holes on the Lake Norcorian hotel course in 11 hours, 55 minutes and 875 strokes.

Miss Andre started out at 5:30 a. m. and finished at 5:25 p. m., after changing shoes three times and walking, observers figured, 62,254 yards. Her best 18-hole score was 91, her worst 115.

PIE TRAYNOR

PITTSBURGH.—Although the Pirates missed out on the glory of this year's National league pennant, Manager Pie Traynor has signed a new one-year contract at an increase in salary, the Pittsburgh club announced today.

Traynor mailed in the contract from his Brookville, Ind., home just before he left on a hunting trip in Wisconsin's forests where presumably he could find solace for the sinking of his craft in the last two days of the season.

President William E. Benswanger, in announcing the hiring of Traynor for his fifth full season, said:

"We feel, and other baseball men of the country also feel, that Pie did a good job in 1937. It was only an unfortunate break that prevented him from winning the pennant."

Traynor's signing left only the St. Louis Cardinals and Browns yet to choose their leaders.

PEORIA, Ill.—Ken Overlin, 158, Decatur, Ill., knocked out Jack Moran, 162, Cleveland (6).

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Two towering California heavyweights, Chuck Crowell and Haystack Sloan, joined Mike Jacobs' fistic extravaganza today, signed and sealed to fight exclusively for the New York promoter during the next seven years.

Crowell, a six-foot-six former high school shotputter, is tentatively dated for a New York debut late in November.

Sloan has had but six professional fights, winning four by knockouts. Jacobs leaves by train for his Manhattan headquarters tonight.

You Bet It's Cricket—In Football—To Spy On Your Future Enemies

By DILLON GRAHAM

Associated Press Sports Writer

Gridiron fans seldom hear of football scouts, but these legitimate spies are just as valuable to a winning team as that big, bruising tackle or that halfback with the slippery hips.

Football scouts are the only spies who have any social standing. They are winoed, dined and given choice seats by their rivals.

It's quite cricket in football to spy on your neighbor. The scouts, generally assistant coaches, are scattered about almost all of our stadia these fall Saturday afternoons.

The scouts prefer press box locations, but some like to sit behind the goal posts to watch blocking assignments, the opening and closing of holes.

EVERYBODY HAS 'EM

Every team has one or more scouts. Some teams scout their opponents once or twice. Where the rivalry is intense, scouts spy more often. Army scouts Navy in every game, and vice versa. Army has had as many as six scouts scouting a Navy-Notre Dame contest, with three watching each team.

Some head coaches want detailed reports. Others are content with salient facts from their scouts. "The thing we are primarily interested in is the personnel of the other team in relation to our own personnel," one coach said. Scouts' reports cover the condition of the field, wind, temperature, etc.

Covering personnel, the scouts watch for any tell-tale traits. For example, does a lineman charge and then float, or does he charge all the way through? Can one of our ends handle the opposing tackle, or should we have the halfback help the end block him?

SIGNAL STEALERS

Of course, the human equation enters in, and a lineman may be an entirely different man from one game to the next. Scouts watch backs to see whether the passer or punter spits on his hands or has any other mannerism to show when he is going to throw or kick and when he is going to run.

Sometimes ends are ordered to float in one game and to crash in the next, so reports brought home by the scouts cannot be 100 per cent accurate.

Next to personnel, formations and plays are charted by the scouts. The scout and the coaching staff try to anticipate all the plays that may be run off a certain formation, as well as those that are actually used in a particular game.

A scout may report to his coach: "When I saw them, they didn't lateral off this play, but they can, so we should watch for it and provide for it."

These reports are supplemented, where possible, by movies of the previous year's game between the home club and its opponent. Each school is allowed to take movies of game in which it plays.

Scouting a forthcoming rival by camera is not ethical and is not done.

Then the team gets a blackboard

After a scout has made all his notes in his notebook during a game, he returns home and prepares a concise report for his head coach. The coach goes over the report and decides how his attack should function best against this particular team.

Then the team gets a blackboard

drill on opponents' plays and the way to stop 'em, or how to go through the enemy defense. The team is coached on the field, too. Sometimes the scout takes charge of a scrub team, teaches it the rival's plays, and then scrimmages it with the varsity to give the first team actual experience in what to expect.

SAYS HE WAS 43 DURING CIVIL WAR

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—"Uncle" Mark Trush, venerable negro who lives in a two-room log cabin in Chattanooga Park and says he is 117 years old, is looking forward to a reunion with his twin brother.

Both he and his brother saw the battle, "Uncle" Mark says. "We were 43 years old then," he adds.

The brother has been for many years a Baptist missionary in Africa and now "Uncle" Mark has a letter saying he is returning to Chattanooga for the anniversary of the Civil war battle fought here.

FAY LOST TO STANFORD

PALO ALTO. (AP)—First it was injuries that plagued the Stanford football team, and now it's a sore throat. Coach Tiny Thornhill said today that Pete Fay, fullback and sparkplug of the Indian outfit, would be out of competition for possibly several weeks because of a serious throat infection.

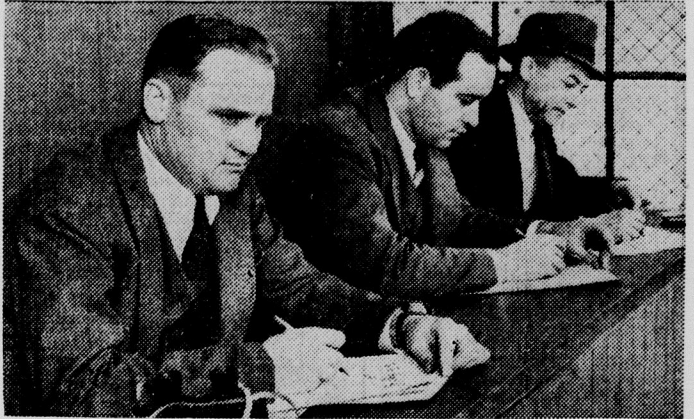

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Coach Howard Jones cracked the whip in secret practice today as the Southern California Trojans prepared for a "do-or-die" effort against Stanford at Palo Alto next Saturday. Two erstwhile backfield crumples, Mickey Anderson and Bob Peoples, are all ready to rejoin the team, but the hip injury of Fullback Jimmy Jones may keep him out of action this week.

BERKELEY. (AP)—Coach Stub Allison of California warned his varsity today not to underestimate the University of Washington football team because of its poor showing so far this season. Allison, remembering the 0-0 tie played with the Huskies last year, said he believed the Washington club would give the Bears their hardest game of the season this far when they tangle at Seattle Saturday.

POLITICIANS WROTE LOTS OF LETTERS

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The post-office department should be grateful for this year's crop of candidates for Texas public offices.

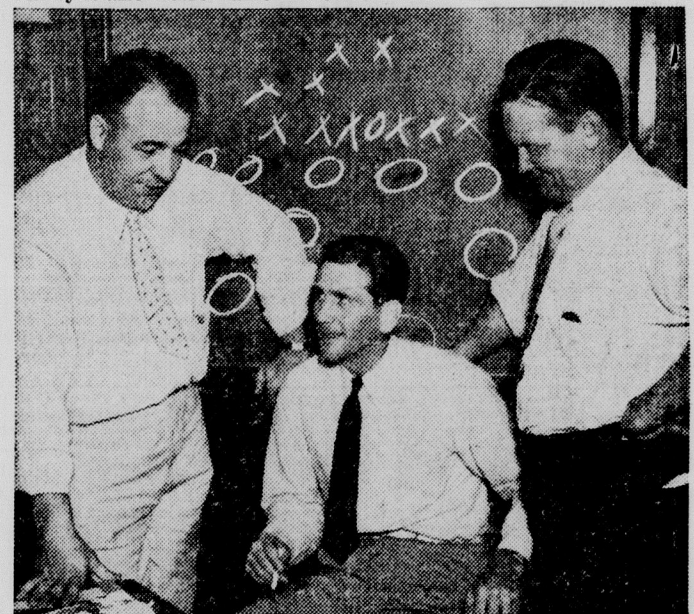

Postal receipts at the capital were 25 per cent greater this July than last and officials said the chief reason was that several candidates had headquarters in Austin and carried on heavy mail campaigns.

O'SHANNON'S JAW BROKEN BY LEONARD

By KENNETH ADAMS

Two rounds of the most brutal fighting ever seen in the Orange County Athletic club arena last night ended with curses of fanks ringing in the ears of one Jackie Leonard from Wilmington, whose tactics are as dirty as those of a professional wrestler.

Leonard was rematched with "Red" O'Shannon, the stout-hearted Irish-Mexican from Los Angeles, and the fight was halted when O'Shannon suffered a broken jaw. The blow that broke his jaw came just as the bell ended the second stanza. O'Shannon had won the first fight between the pair, mostly because of the illegal blows struck by Leonard.

The two rounds furnished a thrilling climax for an evening of well-matched bouts. In the first frame, "Red" absorbed terrible punishment from the hard-hitting Leonard, who kept him backed against the ropes or in a corner while he sank lefts and rights in Red's body. But just as the bell ended the first round, O'Shannon cut loose with an uppercut that knocked Leonard down and out. The bell saved Leonard.

Another uppercut floored Leonard in the first seconds of the second round, but he got up and hammered O'Shannon back against the ropes and into a corner. Leonard hit Red several times in the jaw deliberately, with his elbows, and the fans roared their disapproval. Then, at the end of the round, came the blow that broke O'Shannon's jaw.

Clever Frankie Gardea, Los Angeles, had his hands full in his match with Jesse James Jackson, the cool, dangerous negro from Riverside, who beat Wayne Penn, Long Beach, last week. Gardea carried the fight to Jackson, but lost by a narrow margin.

Sammy Walker, L. A. negro who packs dynamite in his fists, battered Lupe Placentia, Santa Ana, into unconsciousness in the first round. A left hook sent Placentia down for a nine-count, and a sizzling right then ended the affair. It was the first time Placentia had been knocked out.

Larry Thomas, Compton, who for some unknown reason has changed his name to Sullivan, made his first start at the local fighthouse since revival of boxing, and it was a disastrous one. Don Crawford, L. A. negro, polliwadded him off in the third round. It was a technical kayo.

Dan Avila, Riverside, lost a decision to Billy Duncan, of the Los Angeles Ebony club. Bob Blake, Santa Ana Jaycee scrapper, won a decision over Gabe Sales, Los Angeles. Snuffy Thomas, Compton, won by a decision over Chuck Bailey, Riverside negro. Jack Harris of Long Beach won a close decision over Georgia Jenks, Ebony club brawler.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—"Uncle" Mark Trush, venerable negro who lives in a two-room log cabin in Chattanooga Park and says he is 117 years old, is looking forward to a reunion with his twin brother.

Both he and his brother saw the battle, "Uncle" Mark says. "We were 43 years old then," he adds.

The brother has been for many years a Baptist missionary in Africa and now "Uncle" Mark has a letter saying he is returning to Chattanooga for the anniversary of the Civil war battle fought here.

Both he and his brother saw the battle, "Uncle" Mark says. "We were 43 years old then," he adds.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Coach Howard Jones cracked the whip in secret practice today as the Southern California Trojans prepared for a "do-or-die" effort against Stanford at Palo Alto next Saturday. Two erstwhile backfield crumples, Mickey Anderson and Bob Peoples, are all ready to rejoin the team, but the hip injury of Fullback Jimmy Jones may keep him out of action this week.

BERKELEY. (AP)—Coach Stub Allison of California warned his varsity today not to underestimate the University of Washington football team because of its poor showing so far this season. Allison, remembering the 0-0 tie played with the Huskies last year, said he believed the Washington club would give the Bears their hardest game of the season this far when they tangle at Seattle Saturday.

POLITICIANS WROTE LOTS OF LETTERS

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The post-office department should be grateful for this year's crop of candidates for Texas public offices.

Postal receipts at the capital were 25 per cent greater this July than last and officials said the chief reason was that several candidates had headquarters in Austin and carried on heavy mail campaigns.

SPORTS Roundup

By EDDIE BRIET

NEW YORK. (AP)—Note to Van Mungo, Pageland, S. C.: You probably haven't heard it yet, but that bum arm you developed last season is going to cost you a two-er word, the Dodgers will offer you $5000 instead of the $15,000 you drew last season.

Everytime Army hears where "Bronco" Brunner of Tulane ran wild in the South it gives them a headache, for "Bronco" turned down an appointment to West Point last summer. . . . Hack Wilson, who used to hit all those homers for the Cubs, is working in a Brooklyn floor show for coffee and cake money.

Bill Stewart, National league hockey Blackhawk, will make his radio debut Nov. 2. . . . Apparently that Rice team (Lain and all) has folded. . . . After Syracuse's surprising victory over Cornell, reporters naturally went looking for Coach Ossie Solem. . . . They finally found him playing handball with Bill Boelter, his first lieutenant. . . . More dope from Syracuse says the contract with the Duke makes it clear that Sidat-Singh will not be used against the Southerners. . . . Which is a break for Mr. Wallace Wade, if you go by last week's results.

Why doesn't some major league club grab a smart baseballer like Frankie Frisch right quick? . . . All-American pickers should keep their eyes glued on Bill Dwyer, halfback on the New Mexico University team. . . . If you don't believe it, ask Dixie Howell, the former Alabama star, who is coaching down taht way. . . . The word from Detroit is that Schoolboy Rowe is on the way back, better than ever. Let's all hope so, for the Schoolboy is a regular.

Patterson's Dairy and Treesweet Products got off to an auspicious start in the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. basketball league season which opened last night.

With Buck and McCabe pacing the attack, Patterson's quint humbled Karl's Shoes, 38 to 19, but an over-time period was necessary before Treesweet Products could turn back Southern Counties Gas company, 30 to 25.

There will be another double-header in the "X" gymnasium tomorrow night, under the following schedule: 7:15 o'clock, Back Lumber company vs. Neal's Sporting Goods store; 8:30 o'clock, Famous Department store vs. Al's Lock and Key shop.

Treesweet (30) Pos. (25) S. C. Gas (19) Pos. (19) Karl's Shoes (38) Pos. (19) Neal's Sporting Goods (8:30) Famous Department store vs. Al's Lock and Key shop.

Substitutions: Treesweet Products—Al Barnard (6).

Patterson D. (38) Pos. (19) Karl's Shoes (38) Pos. (19) Neal's Sporting Goods (8:30) Famous Department store vs. Al's Lock and Key shop.

Substitutions: Patterson Dairy—Kaun, Burbridge (2). Karl's Shoes—D. Baker (2).

Santa Barbara to Play Arizonans

SANTA BARBARA. (AP)—Santa Barbara State college's Oct. 29 football date was filled today when Coach Theo (Spud) Harder announced he had scheduled Arizona State Teachers at Tempe.

Santa Barbara was scheduled to play Texas School of Mines, but the latter declined after Santa Barbara refused to remove two negro players from its lineup. Tempe had a game booked Oct. 29 with La Verne college, but that also was canceled.

BIGGEST LITTLE VILLAGE

Oak Park, Ill., although it has a population of more than 70,000 people, is nevertheless, a village according to R. H. Cooper of the Oak Park chamber of commerce. "It is a village in that it has a village form of government," Mr. Cooper says. "That is, it has a president and a board of six trustees. The nearest approach to Oak Park as the 'largest village in the world' was Brookline, Mass., but this former village is now incorporated as a town."

INK SUBSTITUTE

Nothing less than a major catastrophe could keep the "Mountain Messenger," semi-monthly newspaper of Rabbit Creek, Cal., from going to press on time in the 1850's.

One day in 1856 Albert T. Dewey, the editor, was put to test when the press ran out of ink. After much deliberation, it was decided to try out a mixture of axle grease and stove black as an ink substitute.

NOTICE INVITING BIDS

Santa Ana, California
October 15, 1938

In pursuance of a Resolution of the Board of Supervisors of the Orange County Flood Control District, adopted October 15, 1938, directing the publication of this notice, notice is hereby given that sealed bids for the furnishing of the following list of material for protection work on the major stream of Orange County, California, will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, until the hour of 11:00 a. m., Tuesday, October 25, 1938, and then will be publicly opened and read.

Quant. Item Unit Name
1 150 tons Used 5/8 or 9-16 wire rope
2 1330 tons 55 and/or 60 pound

The bidder must submit with his proposal, cash or a satisfactory check, certified by a responsible bank and payable to the order of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, for an amount not less than ten per cent (10%) of the aggregate sum of the bid, to be held in escrow until the bid is opened. If the bidder is awarded the contract, the cash or check shall become the property of the Orange County Flood Control District.

All proposals guaranteed will be held until the award or awards have been made. The contract or contracts entered into by the successful bidder shall give a bond to secure the faithful performance of the contract in the amount of fifty per cent (50%) of the contract price. The materials to be furnished shall be in accordance with the following specifications: Orange County Flood Control District:

USED WIRE ROPE
COMPOSITION:
All rope to be of material conforming to American Institute of Rope Specifications for grade "N" or better, 8-16 to 1/2 inches in diameter and of length 420 feet, to be delivered to the job on reels in lengths of not less than four hundred feet, subject to the exception of leading rope, showing the following defects will be subject to rejection: Undue corrosion, frayed or broken wires or strands, kinks or dog legs, other distorted places, frayed or broken wires or strands, or over strain, popped or broken cores.

DELIVERY:
All rope shall be delivered on serviceable hard surfaced roads along the Santa Ana River and other major streams of the Orange County Flood Control District. All materials shall be delivered within thirty (30) days of date of contract.

PAYMENT:
The price per ton for used wire rope shall include full compensation for furnishing and delivering said wire rope in accordance with the specifications.

USED STEEL RAILS
Rails shall be delivered on sixty pound per yard used straight railroad rails between twenty-nine (29) and forty (40) feet in length, to be delivered to the job on reels in lengths of not less than four hundred feet, subject to the exception of leading rope, showing the following defects will be subject to rejection: Undue corrosion, frayed or broken wires or strands, kinks or dog legs, other distorted places, frayed or broken wires or strands, or over strain, popped or broken cores.

DELIVERY:
All rails shall be delivered on serviceable hard surfaced roads along the Santa Ana River and other major streams of the Orange County Flood Control District. All rails shall be delivered within thirty days of date of contract.

The price per ton for used steel rails shall include full compensation for furnishing and delivering said rails in accordance with the specifications. All rails will be received on any or all items, provided that the rails are not permitted to submit bids on less than fifty (50) tons of rails and/or less than twenty (20) tons of used steel rails. The Board of Supervisors of the Orange County Flood Control District reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

By order of the Board of Supervisors of the Orange County Flood Control District, Orange County, California.

(SEAL)
County Clerk and Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the Orange County Flood Control District.

I've gotten a lot of letters from people askin' me if I ever read speeches off or if I just get up and gab. I never write a speech down. I just get up and trust to luck and while I make a lot of mistakes, the worst thing you can say about it is that it was bad.

I never wrote but one speech in my life and that was my first one. The next day the papers said, "There were three things wrong with it. In the first place it was read; in the second place it wasn't well read; and in the third place it wasn't worth readin'."
